A Rhetorical Battle in DC Over Redevelopment

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The newly formed Daly City Redevelopment Agency began its first meeting with a rhetorical battle between the City Council and opponents of the agency on Monday.

After presenting a formal petition containing more than 500 signatures, representatives of a group calling itself "Citizens to Save Old Daly City" strongly criticized the council for not setting up a citizens commission to run the redevelopment agency.

The city council said it would establish a 20-25 member citizens advisory committee to provide input for a study of the redevelopment area east of the Junipero Serra Freeway.

However, Dan Nordquist, 188 Santa Barbara Street, said the city's advisory groups were "ineffective."

City Manager David Rowe quickly disagreed with Nordquist, noting that the General Plan Citizens Committee, Advisory Housing Committee and Knowles Avenue Relocation Committee had been very effective" in helping these programs to a final solution.

Councilman Louis J. Papan said the council already had appointed themselves as the Redevelopment Agency, acceptable under the law, and were "not in a frame of mind to relinquish that control."

While commending Nordquist for the work displayed in rounding up some 500 signatures, Papan said he did not share the group's views on establishment of a commission.

Fellow Councilman McRobert Stewart pointed out that the city already had a Planning Commission to assist the council.

Mayor Bernard J. Lycett said he felt the two-way discussion between Nordquist's group and the council had turned into "bickering" and called a halt to the hour-long discussion.

"Even though you may not agree with this," Lycett said, "formation of an advisory committee for the redevelopment study 'is progressive'."

The problem in the eastern sections of Daly City "are serious problems," Councilman Stewart said.

This was the reason for the establishment of the Redevelopment Agency, he said.

In the Bay Area Rapid Transit station area on Knowles Avenue there is an excellent example of a viable community in action, Nordquist informed the council.

It is not a ghetto, Nordquist, said, "or a blighted area."

If the city council established a new Redevelopment Agency Commission, rather than an advisory committee, it would have more power over functions of redevelopment, it was argued by Nordquist.

And the council would still retain its final power to approve or reject findings.

The council has maintained, however, that any new commission might conflict with the powers of the existing Planning Commission. Also, a group made up entirely of persons from the "target areas" might constitute a conflict of interest when the time came for them to vote on acquisition of lands, rezoning, etc., the council feels.

During the lengthy meeting Marion Goodman, executive director of the D. C. Information and Referral Center, accused Papan of never having lived in the area.

Earlier, the council named Mayor Lycett as chairman of the agency, with vice mayor Frank Pacelli filling the vice chairman's post on the board.

Members of the agency receive $15 per meeting.

Other appointments made Monday were to the executive director's post, attorney and secretary to the board.

Lycett appointed City Manager David Rowe as executive director ($150 per month); City Attorney Albert Polonsky ($150 per month). Administrative personnel will be selected by Rowe and paid comparable salaries with "outside" jobs.

The administrative personnel will be fulltime.

The council also adopted a temporary budget of $52,045 to get the agency underway. This left an unbudgeted balance of $17,955 from the total appropriation of $70,000.

Monies for the RA come from the city's general fund.

If and when the agency begins acquiring and selling lands for development the funds will be restored.

On the other hand if the agency is dissolved there is no guarantee the city will recoup the $70,000, Rowe said.

St. Clair Pays His Car Bill

County Supervisor Robert St. Clair, still maintaining that he is the victim of a political ax job by District Attorney Keith C. Sorensen, said Monday he paid the county $230 for what Sorenson alleged was personal use of the county-owned car assigned to him.

St. Clair continued to deny any unauthorized use of the car and insisted that the settlement is in no way an admission of any wrongdoing.

He said he paid the money only to avoid a costly lawsuit and trial.

"My great disappointment in this whole matter," St. Clair said, "is the fact that a group of well-meaning citizens on the Grand Jury could be manipulated to serve as a tool in the district attorney's continued campaign against me."

The 1971 County Grand Jury ordered Sorenson to collect an unspecified amount from St. Clair for illegal use of his county car and telephone privileges, or, in the event he refused to pay, to file suit to recover the money. The supervisor later settled the telephone bill for $325, insisting then that he was doing so only to save the cost of defending himself in court.

Sorensen Tuesday called St. Clair's statement that he is out to destroy the supervisor's political future a "fantastic allegation."

"The real question," the district attorney said, "is whether he used the county car and telephone legally or illegally. If he didn't use them illegally, he shouldn't have paid, and I'd hope he wouldn't"

St. Clair is interested in running for the State Assembly this year, depending upon the final outcome of the redistricting controversy in Sacramento. He has stated on several occasions that Sorenson is out to destroy his chances in that race.

St. Clair insisted that other board members and county officials were following the same practices as he in the use of county cars and phones but that he was singled out by Sorenson as "the fall guy."

He said his contention that there was no clear-cut county policy regarding phone and car use was proved in his case. He said the district attorney's office originally billed him for $1,800 for the car but later agreed to settle for $230, which was based on normal rates at rental agencies — $18 a day and 18 cents a mile.

Sorenson said St. Clair was charged on that basis for days it

Victor Ogrey Quits Bruno Plans Board

Victor Ogrey, chairman of the San Bruno Planning Commission, in an announcement that took all by surprise, last night submitted his resignation as a member.

He also resigned as member of the Crestmoor Canyon Committee, of which he has been secretary, and the Canyon Improvement Committee, of which he has been vice chairman.

He gave as his reason, the need to restore his economic situation. He had taken a deep cut in income early last year, when he left the San Francisco Redevelopment office, he noted.

In resigning, Ogrey had a number of recommendations to make in regard to city planning:

1. Limit the term of a planning commissioner to five years.

2. The city is in great need of a full-time planner. San Bruno has many large developments in progress and full-time staff is needed to make sure it is properly done.

A full-time planner could review all use permits on a regular basis, handle commission correspondence, interview applicants for use permits and other things.

Garlington Quits As Skyline Prexy

Philip C. Garlington, 56-year-old founding president of new Skyline College in San Bruno, on Monday asked for reassignment to a San Mateo Junior College District teaching position.

Garlington is the fourth chief officer in the district to resign in the last three years. Dr. Julio Bortolazzo resigned as superintendent followed by Dr. Robert Ewigleben as president of the College of San Mateo and William Goss as president of Canada College.

"After a number of weeks of soul searching," Garlington wrote District Chancellor Clifford G. Erickson, "I have made the decision to request that I be relieved of my present administrative duties and reassigned to teaching, beginning fall semester, 1972.

"My decision, I assure you, reflects no dissatisfaction with the college, the district or the board (of trustees). I feel, however, I must devote more time to my family than I have been able to do these past busy years. I recall, moreover, my genuine satisfaction in getting closer to students in the classroom and in counseling—intimate relationships that are not possible for a president to achieve."

Garlington, who had been director of instruction at College of San Mateo for a decade before being named by the trustees to the top Skyline College post in 1969, was an English teacher in high schools and at University of the Pacific and San Joaquin Delta College for several years prior to beginning his administrative career as Delta's dean of men in 1948.

He wrote Erickson that he was making his wishes known now because of the months of lead time required to conduct the search for a new Skyline president.

Garlington's request, recommended for approval by the chancellor, will be considered by the trustees at their regular meeting tomorrow night at College of San Mateo.

Erickson said he would be bringing the matter to the board with "reluctance, for administrators possessing Mr. Garlington's ability, experience, dedication and personal warmth are rare, indeed."

The chancellor added that Garlington "has achieved an exemplary record of service" in his 14 years with the district. "Particularly noteworthy has been his able leadership at Skyline College, bringing together and directing an outstanding faculty and staff for this new institution, developing an excellent and comprehensive educational program, and earning strong community support — all of which accomplishments enabled Skyline to merit full accre-

Compromise Helps Gain Rezone Okay

A unique compromise between the homeowners and the developer was credited with approval of a rezoning Monday, which will allow a 158-unit apartment project to be built in San Bruno's Pacific Heights, behind the shopping center.

Councilmen approved rezoning from commercial to planned development, of the 6.85 acre site, now a vacant lot.

A number of local residents, who had previously presented almost solid front opposition, year after year, to any kind of apartment plan, last night backed the proposal.

The final concessions of developer Perry Liebman, who was represented by Atty. Reynold Colvin, was an agreement to build a sidewalk along Highland Drive into the shopping center, and to contribute up to $1500 to rebuild the entrance to the parking lot off the Pacific Heights Shopping Center, off of Sharp Park Road, providing the sum be matched. These provisions will become part of the development plan which will next come before the Planning Commission.

In his presentation, Colvin noted a series of concessions on Liebman's part:

1. He is asking for PD zoning instead of the garden-apartment zoning he originally sought.

2. He is eliminating from the plan the apartments that were marked for a high point on the southwest corner of the site.

3. He eliminated any entrance onto Elston Drive, except for an entrance with a fire chain across it.

4. He showed a letter of intent from the Singer Housing Corp. owners of Pacific Heights Shopping Center, permitting the development with access via a road which would wind behind the Fox Theater and Thrifty Drugs.

3. He had cut down the plans, over the years, from the 222 units first sought, to 175 units of which half were one-bedroom

Architects Retained —Civic Center Project

While denying Fassler Avenue off Cabrillo Highway was meant as the only civic center site, Pacifica council members last night laid groundwork to assure its availability.

This was done by hiring a team of architects — Robert Wayne Hawly and Associates and Fisher-Friedman — on a $1,000 retainer for a two-year period.

It was explained that the architects would be paid on an hourly basis, not to exceed $1,000, for consulting services and preparation of city hall working drawings. The drawings would not necessarily be for that site, the council said.

"Unfortunately, this does not mean we're ready to build a city hall," said Mayor Grace McCarthy.

"It doesn't even mean this is the site," added Coucilman San Farber. "This is a proposed site."

Pacifica several years ago entered into an agreement with land owner Ken Royce concerning a 7.4-acre parcel on Fassler Avenue above the Sea Bowl.

At that time Royce agreed that he would deed a 7.4-acre parcel to the city in return for improvement of Fassler Avenue through his property.

Two strings were attached to the proposal. The first condition was that if the property were not eventually (no time limit was given) utilized as a civic center site, it would revert back to Royce. A second condition to the city securing the deed was that it must reatin the services of an architect.

The action was met with bitter denunciation of secret dealings behind closed doors and luncheon promises. But never a full report to the public.

Principal spokesman was resident Virginia Jaeger, who got up and read from what she identified as an earlier proposal in the form of a resolution and a memo from Swayne to the council.

She said these documents spelled out an agreement calling for the hiring of the same architects for consumation of the deal with Royce.

According to her, the architects also were to be awarded two other projects, unless they prepared a full schematic city hall design at a cost of $11,500. The first phase of a city hall project was estimated by her at $500,000.

Swayne answered by saying, "Many things are tentative, and never reach the final stage. With this (adopted last night) agreement we can pay $1,000 instead of $11,000, a substantial improvement."

Several others in the audience sided with Mrs. Jaeger by saying that the public is not aware of what is happenig and when they ask for clarification at a council meeting they are gaveled down. "The council is impatient with people who ask questions," said one resident.

Markers Set For Airport

San Francisco International Airport will have distance markers along its runways just as soon as the Federal Aviation Administration approves design of such signs.

So said Airports Director James K. Carr Wednesday to the San Francisco Airports Commisison.

Carr said he had been discussing the signs, proposed by the National Transportation and Safety Board, with local leaders of the FAA.

Ham Hears, Trio Jailed In San Bruno

Belmont ham radio operator Warren Bostick heard an interesting conversation on his car's citizen band radio on Monday night.

It led to the arrest of three persons, caught in the act of burglarizing a San Bruno catering service storage house, with the aid of walkie-talkies.

San Bruno police booked Steven Craig Rink, 19, of Redwood City. Police said he was caught on the top of a building at 1254 Monterey by Officer Ken Floyd.

Two others were apprehended by South San Francisco police. They were Jay Livermore, 18, also of Redwood gcity, and Alan Coppola, 24, of San Mateo. Both had sped away from the scene in a car.

According to police Bostick was passing through San Bruno when his radio picked up smatterings of conversations between two parties, apparently using walkie-talkies.

Bostick went to the San Bruno police station and they monitored the conversation.

When the comment was made that a certain window had been replaced and the putty was still wet, police knew the location.

The police went to Regal Catering.

D.C. Council OK's Complex

The Daly City City Council Monday overturned the action of its Planning Commission and approved construction of a second apartment complex for low income senior citizens.

Last month the commission turned down a request for issuance of a use permit for construction of 120 apartments under a "turn-key" lease proposal between County Street and First Avenue.

D.C. Man Accidentally Released From the S.M. County Jail

A Daly City man awaiting trial for robbing the White Oaks Pharmacy in San Carlos last September was accidentally released from the county jail in Redwood City Monday after he appeared in Southern District Municipal Court on a minor traffic charge.

Lieutenant Richard Platt said a municipal judge gave Vincent Smith, 30, of 743 Beechwood Drive, Daly City, credit for time served when he appeared on a $25 traffic charge.

Deputy Lawrence Rosales, seeing the release order, gave Smith his freedom, not realizing he was due to be arraigned in Superior Court on January 20 on a charge of robbing the pharmacy. He was being held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Smith was accused with two other men of pulling one of two robberies at the pharmacy, seven weeks apart. Also awaiting trial on the charge are John S. Szymkiewicz, of San Francisco, identified by police as an escapee from a San Quentin state work furlough program, and Ernest Lakey. Both were picked up by Torrance police in Southern California and are now being held in Redwood City.

San Carlos Detective Tom Bowers said that police in Fremont and Hayward in the East Bay planned to question Smith about armed robberies there. Bowers said Smith can be considered armed and dangerous.

An all points bulletin was put out for his arrest.

San Carlos, South San Francisco and Daly City police arrested Smith at his Daly City home on December 9. He had been bound over to superior court on January 5.

Becker Will Seek Higher Court Seat

Municipal Judge Charles Becker today announced his intention to run for the Superior Court upon the retirement of Superior Court Judge Joseph Branson.

Judge Branson announced Monday he would not seek reelection to the Superior Court in the June primaries.

Judge Becker has been on the municipal bench in the Northern San Mateo County Judicial District since 1959.

He was elected to his first term in 1958 and has been reelected twice since.

Prior to assuming the judgeship he was a practicing attorney. He has lived in Daly City more than 20 years with his wife, Norma.

Judge Becker said he decided to run for the post after learning of Judge Branson's intention not to seek reelection.

"I have enjoyed a very friendly relationship with Judge Branson, dating back to the days he served on the municipal bench," Becker said.

Charles Becker

"I have always respected Judge Branson for his keen ability as a man of the law and his consideration and understanding of all who appeared before him.

"He was a capable judge in every respect of the word," Becker said.

could be proved that the county car was parked outside the supervisor's liquor store in San Francisco. St. Clair insisted that on those occasions he was in San Francisco on county business and stopped by his store office, where he keeps some files pertaining to county business, while there. The supervisor said in one year alone he made an estimated $100 worth of telephone calls concerning county business from the store office and did not bill the county for the cost.

St. Clair called the billing on the basis of rental rates "unrealistic" but added:

"I cannot afford a costly lawsuit and do not want the district attorney to have the opportunity to continue his attacks to harm me personally."

St. Clair's attorney, Joseph D. Geller, said his client obtained a signed release in which "it was specifically acknowledged that the payment was by way of compromise and in no way an admission of wrongdoing." Geller called Sorenson's comment that St. Clair should not have paid the money if he did not owe it "not a fair statement" in view of the agreement.

4 County Scenic Route Okayed

A four-county committee completed a major segment of its work Friday when it unanimously adopted an alignment for a "Skyline Scenic Recreation Route."

The committee, which includes representatives of San Mateo, San Francisco, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties and cities along the route, has authority to prepare a plan for the route by viture of joint powers agreements signed by all the jurisdictions.

It addition to designating the alignment, the committee adopted a set of design guidelines related to such things as population density, roadway width and vehicle speeds.

The two actions take care of the first parts of an over-all plan for the route, which eventually is to be submitted to the various cities and counties for ratification. Still to be done before the end of the year are such things as designation of a scenic corridor along the alignment, planning of trails, roadside rests and scenic turnouts, and drawing of a zoning plan to protect the route.

The committee members, who have been working on the alignment for a year and a half, were so pleased to finally have the action approved that they applauded themselves after the vote was taken. The meeting was held in the County Hall of Justice in Redwood City.

As approved, the Skyline Scenic Recreation Route would start at Golden Gate Bridge, skirt the ocean and head south via the Great Highway in San Francisco, joining Skyline Boulevard near Fleishhacker Zoo. At Sharp Park Road in Pacifica the scenic route would head west for about a half-mile, then turn south again, past the 18-acre Portola Discovery Site and through the wilderness watershed lands owned by the San Francisco Water Department.

The route through the watershed would be on the ridge on the western edge of the property, affording good views of both the ocean and the bay.

The existing Skyline Boulevard would be joined again at Half Moon Bay Road near Skylawn Cemetery, and would be followed south into Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties. The section of Skyline between Half Moon Bay Road and the Santa Clara County line has been designated a state scenic highway and San Mateo County has designated a corridor in which strict zoning controls are being maintained.

Skyline would be followed south to Highway 17, after which the scenic route would take the present alignment of a narrow county dirt road through Mt. Madonna Park, then follow a mountain ridge to the Pajaro River near Watsonville. The committee agreed that the segment between the park and the river should be a trail for hikers and equestrians, rather than a road for vehicles.

Hecker Pass Road between the park and Watsonville and a portion of the existing Skyline Boulevard in San Mateo County will be designated as temporary alternate portions of the scenic route until the new roads and trails are actually built.

Low Cost Rabies Vaccination Clinics

Owners of dogs not vaccinated within the part two years have one last chance to obtain low-cost rabies vaccination for their dogs before dog license renewals are due The last in a series of three special rabies vaccination clinics will be held January 9 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the locations listed below. These clinics are being held to help dog owners comply with a new regulation requiring all dogs to be vaccinated against rabies before they can receive a license. A fee of $2.50 is charged to cover expenses.

The rabies vaccination clinics are jointly sponsored by the Peninsula Veterinary Medical Association and the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare.

Rabies was found in three bats in San Mateo County in 1971. At its November meeting, the California State Department of Public Health Rabies Advisory Committee for Region IV included San Mateo County in the block declaration of counties designated as rabies areas.

Under this declaration, State law automatically went into effect on December 2, 1971. It applies to all cities and unincorporated areas of San Mateo County. The rabies control regulation requires (1) That every dog of 4 months age and older must be licensed; (2) Every dog owner, after his dog attains the age of four months, shall procure its vaccination with canine anti-rabies vaccine every two years; (3) All dogs under four months of age shall be confined to the premises of or kept under physical restraint by the owner; (4) Any dog in violation of these provisions shall be impounded.

Dog license renewals for 1972 are due January 2 and become delinquent after March 1. It is therefore important that dog owners have their dogs vaccinated against rabies as soon as possible either by their own veterinarian or at one of the public clinics. Owners of dogs not previously licensed should request a license application from the Peninsula Humane Society in San Mateo, Redwood City or South San Francisco.

Clinic locations: Pacifica Fire Station, Milagra and Edgemar, Pacifica; Burlingame Fire Station, Palm Avenue at California, Burlingame; North County Health Center, 1024 Mission Road, South San Francisco;

ditation in only its second year of operation, an achievement matched by very few colleges."

In his letter, Garlington too paid tribute to Skyline's personnel and community. "I shall be leaving a fine institution," he wrote. "I have an outstanding faculty, loyal and dedicated classified personnel, and an extremely able corps of administrators. Skyline's steady growth reflects the support of our North County citizens who have received their new college with friendliness and enthusiasm."

The president also expressed appreciation to Erickson for "ever-present support in many ways as our new college developed" and to Matteo V. Fasanaro, assistant superintendent for business affairs, for "all the good work he did to help bring our plant facility program to fruition."

"Finally, as I leave 14 years of administration in San Mateo Junior College District," he wrote, "I wish to acknowledge my deep appreciation for our board of trustees. Their keen understanding and appreciation of quality education, their tireless hours of hard work and their warm personal releationship with administrators have made my years in this district a wonderful experience."

and half two-bedroom units, to the present 158-unit plan, which contains only 54 two-bedroom units.

In addition, since approval by the Planning Commission last month, with only one dissent, he:

1. Made new plans eliminating spaces between two buildings of less than 30 feet.

2. Agreed on guarantees for the Highlands Drive sidewlk, and the contribution to the new entrance to the shopping center.

Quite a bit of discussion centered around that latter point, with Colvin, Traffic Commission Chairman Henry Hein, and Singer representative Jerry Lincoln expressing their opinion that Singer would probably match the contribution — after Leona McMullinn 2031 Elston Drive, asked if the residents were expected to raise the money.

Finally, Colvin announced that he was so sure of the Singer contribution hat he offered to guarantee the work himself — by making it a part of the development plan.

Some residents, such as Gordon Glain, 3200 Longview Drive, president of the Pacific Heights Homeowners' Association, retained reservations about density and traffic, but conceded it was a good development.

Wholehearted backing came from Jack Lewis, president of the Pacific Heights Homeowners' Association, and Margaret Folsom, 3001 Summit Road, whose home overlooks the site, who said that she and her neighbors were getting tired of looking at a vacant lot with broken bottles and wrecked cars.

Obscenity Charge for S.F. Man

A 51-year-old San Francisco machinist was arrested by Brisbane police on Monday after he was allegedly found sleeping in his car with a 10-year-old child.

Both the man and small girl were nude, police said.

While on patrol shortly after 4:30 a.m. officer John Majka spotted Olney Harrison and the girl in the back seat of a car parked on the Candlestick Park off-ramp of the Bayshore Freeway.

An investigation disclosed that Harrison picked up the child sometime Sunday in San Francisco and spent the day with her.

According to officer Majka the child, who police would not identify, did not appear to be frightened.

She was taken to a north Peninsula hospital for a medical checkup.

Harrison, who steadfastly refused to tell police his home address or place of work, was booked into County Jail in Redwood City on 288pc — obscene gestures to a child.

Police said the child will be turned over to Hillcrest Youth Center authorities pending an investigation of the matter.

BASSA—A New Name in Regional Sewage Control

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Another regional agency will come into being within the next seven months to deal with sewage matters in the nine Bay Area counties.

The Bay Area Sewer Service Agency (BASSA) has been legislated to begin development of a plan for water quality control, namely sewage treatment plants and disposal, by 1974.

After that date, BASSA will have the power to implement whatever plans it has determined to be needed in dealing with sewage treatment in the entire Bay Area.

The new planning agency will be made up of 21 elected officials from the principal counties appointed to serve on the governing body of local Boards of Supervisors.

San Mateo County will have two such representatives. The number of representatives is based on a county's population.

Funding of the agency will come from levying of a surcharge—not to exceed ½ cent per $100 of assessed valuation on properties.

Robert Bernicchi, managing engineer for the North San Mateo County Sanitation District, said he estimates the agency can get $600,000 using current assessment figures in the Bay Area and the ½ cent maximum rate.

The funds will be used to pay for a fulltime administrative staff for BASSA. Exactly how many employes BASSA will have is not known at this time.

The State is expcted soon to let a $400,000 contract to develop a water quality management program in the area which can later be incorporated into the BASSA findings.

This water management program will be supervised by the Water Resources Control Board. As soon as BASSA is formed in July the Water Resources Control Board will turn over all responsibility for the program to BASSA.

"Water resources" is not limited to treatment and disposal of sewage, but also to the possible usage of the treated waters for watering parklands, cleaning streets and for fire fighting.

To date the State has awarded 15 "basin plans" to various sanitary engineering firms. The Bay Area Basin Plan will be the latest.

BASSA will be able not only to acquire sewage plants in districts desiring to turn over their facilities to the master agency for operation, but will also have the power and financial ability to construct new facilities.

Without the blessing of BASSA any facility that wants to expand its plant or build a new one will be hard pressed to get federal and state funds. All such proposals must clear BASSA first, it is understood.

In one form or another the new agency will be able to twist arms as a method of bringing treatment plants up to standards set forth by the State Water Quality Control Board.

Once BASSA is in full operation it is expected the Regional Water Quality Control Board, now under the State Board, will concern itself with policing its own policies instead of directly taking part in operational activities as it does at present.

Bernicchi said the intended duties of the Regional Water Quality Control Board is to act only in the capacity of being a "police agency" to insure certain criteria are being met.

But due to lack of a "working board" at county levels the WQCB found itself involved in activities only remotely connected with its initially intended functions.

It is hoped the new regional agency will fill this void, thus allowing the "higher" agency to return to enforcement and policy making duties.

Last week, Bernicchi briefed the North County Council of Cities on the new agency during their meeting in Daly City.

Prior to Bernicchi's discussion, the NCCC adopted a resolution taking strong issue with the State Water Resources Control Board and the Regional Water Quality Control Board for recent threats of punitive action against some North County District treatment facilities for alleged infractions of operational rules.

The resolution noted the "spirit of cooperation" that exists between North County cities and their continual attempts to meet strict water quality control rules. It was suggested both the state and regional controls boards try to advance some of this same cooperation.

Instead of threats the NCCC says the cities should be commended "for the far-sighted and concerned actions that they have been taking for the citizenry of San Mateo County."

Airport Cab Service Hit

San Mateo County is being taken for a ride by the Yellow Cab Company of San Francisco by not taking customers in the direction they want to go.

This was the consensus of a study conducted during recent weeks by a three-man subcommittee formed by the North County Council of Cities to study complaints stemming from taxicab operations at International Airport.

The subcommittee is composed of San Bruno councilman Tony Governale, Daly City councilman Louis J. Papan and Millbrae councilman William G. Glang.

Complaints that Yellow Cab Company drivers were not meeting their obligation to provide customers with rides into nearby communities were investigated by the group, along with countercharges of so-called "pirate cabs" operating at the airport.

The Yellow Cab Company now has an exclusive franchise agreement with San Francisco Airport. This contract has another three years to run, Papan explained.

Papan gave a stinging appraisal of what type of operation the Yellow Cab Company was running at the airport, informing his fellow officials "the problem is very serious."

There have been increasing complaints from persons using the airport that some cabs have refused to transport them to nearby communities, favoring long runs to downtown San Francisco.

The reason most cabdrivers do not want to take local runs, according to Papan, is that they must take up positions at the end of a long line of waiting cabs on their return to the airport.

Meetings with Yellow Cab officials, including William Ferdon, attorney for the company; Charles O'Connor, senior vice president of Yellow and Joseph Gillio, of the South San Francisco Yellow Cab Company disclosed that the cab company now pays San Francisco $350,000 annually to operate at the airport.

The contract stipulates that Yellow must keep on hand at the airport at least 50 cabs.

"Pirate" cabs have intercepted some Yellow patrons, but have concentrated mostly on those customers Yellow does not want. However, Yellow contends these so-called "pirates" do not have authorization to operate at the airport and police have been citing them for traffic violations in an effort to keep them away.

Yellow is now cooperating in a new inspection routine whereby plainclothes police spot check cabbies by asking to be taken to a local address. If the driver refuses, the officer reports the incident to officials of the cab company and Local 265 of the Chauffeur's Union, Papan explained.

In some cases cabbies have been dismissed, Papan said.

But the answer to the problem is for passage of some sort of legislation by the state, the subcommittee feels.

The airport pays some $11 million per year in taxes to San Mateo County and also splits traffic fines 50-50 here.

Papan also noted that last year the airport recorded more than $450,000 in such fines.

But the county is not "getting a voice" in the operations of cab services at the airport.

San Mateo County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald warned that strong legislation may favor the San Francisco cab companies and not help the current situation or local businesses, such as Peninsula cab operators.

Fitzgerald said his body had thus far held three hearings on the taxicab matter "but we still can't find a solution."

If the North County Council can find the answer to this problem "we'll support it," Fitzgerald vowed.

Ironically, the Yellow Cab Company was considered to be a "pirate operation" prior to 1964, councilman Glang told those attending Thursday's meeting in Daly City.

As a first step in settling the issue the NCCC membership voted unanimously to have the subcommittee hold a series of hearings with the County Board of Supervisors, Airports Commission and the San Mateo County District Attorney's office.

Attorney Cahen to Seek Millbrae Post

Donald Cahen, 41, unsuccessful candidate for Millbrae City Council in 1966, has announced that he will run again.

Attorney Cahen, who lives with his family at 1080 Helen Drive, missed election in 1966 by about 45 votes. He is former chairman of the Millbrae Planning Commission.

He is presently chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Mental Health of Peninsula Hospital, is a former chairman of the San Mateo County Regional Planning Committee and the former vice-chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Minority Education to the San Mateo Union High School District.

"Strong, independent leadership is necessary at the local level," he said. "Noise pollution, air pollution, transportation bottlenecks, increased population density, inequitable taxation — these problems mount rapidly. The city council has not provided adequate results in representing this community in efforts to meet these problems.

Two Bonds, Five Offices On Ballot

Five elective positions, and two bond measures, will make up the South San Francisco ballot this April.

The council positions held by Frank Mammini, Frank Bertucelli and Warren Steinkamp have expired. Also up for re-election are City Clerk Arthur Rodondi and City Treasurer John Bonalanza. All have four-year terms.

The bond measures concern a request of the city's housing authority to build low rent housing with federal funding, and approval from property owners for assessments to build a required outfall line and wastewater treatment facility.

Rodondi reminds that persons interested in filing for the April 11 municipal election may pick up nomination papers, and file them, beginning January 13. Deadline for filing is noon February 3.

New state legislation moved up the beginning filing date, which used to be the latter part of January.

San Mateo County Historical Unit Leads Way for Others

The San Mateo County Historical Association is leading the way for state historical groups.

First formed in 1943, it now has an outstanding modern museum and thousands of archival materials housed in a new building on the campus of the College of San Mateo.

Every year many groups of school children and hundreds of researchers are assisted by the full-time staff or 33 members of the volunteer Women's Auxiliary. The association programs of county tours and lectures are popular attractions.

Socres of artifacts are given each year to be preserved for the future while many old-timers are interviewed on tape so that the future citizens of San Mateo County may know what has gone before. The association publishes top quality books and numerous pamphlets, in addition to its regular journal, "La Peninsula" and a monthly newsletter concerning historical activities in San Mateo County.

In an unique arrangement, the College of San Mateo has provided facilities for the association for over 25 years. Starting with one room on the Baldwin Avenue campus, the museum, offices and storage areas gradually expanded to the present 8,000 square feet on the new San Mateo campus. At the same time, the County of San Mateo has recognized the association's work through an annual grant. Individual memberships have also helped in expanding the services maintaining the association's leadership in California.

In the day of rapidly changing values, the existence of a museum or an historical society is frequently questioned. With its growing collections, and programs, however, the San Mateo County Historical Association is more than ready to meet the challenge.

The files of aviation history and of railroading in San Mateo County, are already acknowledged to be the finest available. Documents and artifacts regarding coastside shipwrecks, postal cancellations, glass bottles, mansions and San Francisco water lands are among the most used by business executives, lawyers and government employes. The association has also taken the lead in assisting newly formed historical societies within the county.

The South San Francisco Public Library history section and the new Millbrae Historical Society are two such organizations.

The county association is also a member of no fewer than five national organizations, of the Conference of California Historical Societies, the Western History Association and many others. Its publications have been sent throughout the world.

The association is controlled by a 15-member board of directors, of whom Elio Fontana of Daly City is president.

S.S.F. Road Widening Set

El Camino Real widening in South San Francisco scheduled for completion this year will prevent bottlenecks now occurring at Chestnut and Orange Avenue intersections.

This in effect is what City Engineer Lou Goss told city officials in response to a query by Councilman Warren Steinkamp.

Councilman Steinkamp had stated that the council was being "ridiculed" because of the fact the road narrows at these two intersections.

According to Goss a call for bids on the remaining road widening will be Thursday.

Passenger Traffic Increase Is Noted

San Francisco International Airport closed out the 1971 calendar year with an encouraging upsurge in the flow of air passengers, Airports Director James K. Carr has told the San Francisco Airports Commission.

"The very high level of air travel during the holidays indicates December will be a near record month in air passengers, although the final count will not be available for approximately two weeks," Carr stated. "However, a preliminary informal check indicates a record number of air travelers, approximately 67,000 was accommodated on December 23, and that the previous high of 62,500 was equalled on December 17.

"Beginning December 16, the passenger flow each day, with the exception of Christmas Day, which traditionally is a slack travel time, has been well above the daily average of approximately 38,500 recorded during the first 11 months of 1971," Carr stated.

Carr said the December passenger total is expected to exceed substantially the 1,174,100 figure recorded for 1970.

SSF Finance Information To Be Given

South San Francisco is the only city in the county that did not respond to a Government Research Council request for information on how cities expend public monies.

This fact was brought to light by resident Don Gamma, who has long criticized the handling of the city's finances by City Treasurer John Bonalanza. It was confirmed by City Atty. John Noonan, who said the failure to respond was his fault.

Gamma said he contacted the County Government Research Council to get more details on city expenditures since he was aware that it was making such a study.

"South San Francisco was the only city in the county that did not respond to the questionnaire sent out," said Gamma. "I was told a second questionnaire was then sent to the city treasurer. I think the citizens would be interested in how this city's money was being spent."

Noonan said he was to blame because the papers had been passed on to him to answer "three or four legal questions." He said the city would respond.

Rocca Funds To Family

Andrew Rocca, former South San Francisco councilman and mayor who died December 26, left his estate to his family, according to a holographic will filed for probate with the county clerk's office Wednesday by Atty. Raymond J. Daba

The hand-written will, dated Sept. 16, 1938, left a quarter-share each to Rocca's wife, Virginia, his son, Andrew, and two daughters, Marion Rocca Wohlfron and Elizabeth Rocca Collins.

Mrs. Collins died in a fire at her home earlier last month, and left no children. Presumably, her share of the estate will be allocated among Mrs. Rocca and the surviving son and daughter.

No value of the Rocca estate was established in the petition for probate, other than it is in excess of $10,000.

The will states that personal effects are to go primarily to the son and Mrs. Wohlfron, with proceeds of life insurance policies going to beneficiaries named on the policies, and not specified in the will.

Rocca was a member of the city council from 1954 to 1970. He served for many years as assistant secretary-treasurer of the L. C. Smith Company in San Mateo.

Sign Burns In Bruno

A plastic advertising sign was no sooner placed atop J&M Auto Parts Company, 692 El Camino, Wednesday when it caught fire.

Officials said the damage was estimated at $500.

According to firemen they had received a call at 7:25 p.m. and responded to find employes welding the sign in place. There was no fire. "The reporting party must have seen the welding and thought there was a fire," said the spokesman.

A short while later there was a fire. Firemen were called back to the same address at 8:28 p.m. to find the sign burning. Officials said heat from the arc welder must have ignited the sign, which apparently had a slow start in burning.

CARLMONT GRAD

SAN DIEGO — Navy Seaman Gary L. Thexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon W. Thexton of 219 Shelford Avenue, San Carlos, graduated from basic training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego.

He is a 1971 graduate of Carlmont High School, Belmont.

Juveniles Held in Burglaries

San Bruno police Wednesday arrested four juveniles, aged nine to thirteen, in connection with five home burglaries in the Pacific Heights area during Christmas holidays.

Police said another arrest of a juvenile is pending in the case. The arrests were made by the detective division after a concerted investigative effort because of the increase in burglaries.

According to police, the juveniles would enter the homes in the early evening hours, after first ringing doorbells to make sure the occupants were not at home.

All juveniles have been released to the custody of their parents, with appearances scheduled at the Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center, Belmont.

Coroner's Aide Guilty In Theft From Dead

Deputy Coroner John Devlin has been found guilty of petty theft of money and personal belonging of the deceased Louis Martini, 73, formerly of South San Francisco.

The verdict came in after four hours of deliberation on Friday by a jury of eight men and four women.

Judge F. Jose de Larios set 11 a.m. February 29 for a probation report and sentencing. Maximum penalty for petty theft, a misdemeanor, is six months in jail and-or $500 fine.

Devlin, who has vowed innocence since the trial began on Wednesday, reiterated this position. "Here is a case where you can be innocent and be convicted," he said.

His attorney, Lewis L. Moore of Redwood City, said "Frankly, I'm quite surprised at the verdict. He (Devlin) was convicted on circumstantial evidence."

Asked about an appeal, Moore said, "We'll have to discuss that."

Deputy Dist. Atty. Steven Grier, who successfully prosecuted the case, said, "It's the proper verdict. I think it was a tough case for the jury. They did their duty."

Several jurors outside the court chambers talked briefly about the difficulty they had in reaching their decision.

They pointed out that one of the parts of the trial discussed extensively had to do with testimony pertaining to the whereabouts of seventeen or eighteen (the exact amount was never arrived at) cents.

Devlin had testified that the change had fallen out of Martini's pocket when he was taken from the car. The deputy coroner said he placed the money in his pocket and then left it in Martini's room.

According to later testimony by South San Francisco Police Detective Anthony Smith the change was not found where Devlin said he had left it when the room was searched several days later.

Jury member Mrs. Gail Johnson said, "We don't feel too good about having to come in with that verdict. We tried to go over (the evidence) as best we could."

Rollie Murphy, appearing to be the youngest juror, said, "I'll guarantee there was more than one ballot."

The strain involved in making the decision was emphasized by Mrs. Edila Roberts, who said she "took a lot of aspirin" during the deliberations.

Each of the jurors polled on whether he agreed with the verdict submitted by forman Charles Simontacchi Jr. answered in the affirmative.

Other jurors were Ronald McKim, Bernard A. Kabage, Herbert Senior, Tony Won, Dewey E. Johnson, George W. Hugasian, Mrs. Dorothy Plise and Mrs. Barbara P. Davis.

S.S.F. Woman Swindled in 'Pigeon Drop'

A 77-year-old South San Francisco woman was swindled out of $769 and three rings Thursday in a perfectly executed "pigeon drop."

South San Francisco police said the elderly woman was walking along a city street when approached by a woman described as being in her 30's.

Police said the two engaged in conversation and while they were talking a third woman, also described as being in her 30's, walked up with an envelope.

This woman told the other two that she had found some money. The envelope was opened and inside there appeared to be a lot of money, police were told.

So, as is the routine in a pigeon drop, the second suspect said she was going to her boss and ask him what to do with the money.

She returned to say that it would be okay to keep the money, but it would have to be held for 90 days. In the meantime, the three would have to pool their resources to show the suspect's alleged employer that there was "good faith."

Police said the elderly South San Francisco woman withdrew money from two banks, met one woman at a local restaurant and gave her the money and three rings. The suspect left.

The woman, however, returned, which is not usual in such frauds, and told the victim the "boss" wanted to meet her. The elderly lady was taken to an office building, where she was left.

Police said the elderly woman then called them.

Pedestrian Is Injured

A Daly City woman was reported in fair condition today at Mary's Help Hospital after being run down while crossing Mission Street Sunday morning.

Concepcion Gomez-Rodriguez, 26, 97 Parkview Avenue, suffered multiple internal injuries and fractures when she was struck by a car driven by Rosario Carmen Soto, 19, 4069 Twenty-fourth Street, San Francisco.

Daly City police said the victim was in a pedestrian crosswalk at the time of the accident and they are seeking a complaint against the driver of the car for failing to give the right-of-way to Mrs. Gomez-Rodriguez.

The accident occurred near the victim's home at the corner of Como and Mission streets about 11 a.m. She was hurled more than 50 feet through the air after being hit, police said.

Bruno Peak Hearing Set

Maurice K. Hamilton, chairman of the San Mateo Local Agency Formation Commission, has announced that the next sphere of influence hearing regarding San Bruno Mountain will be held on January 26 at 2 p.m. at the Daly City hall. This is a continuation of hearings concerning Brisbane, Colma, Daly City and South San Francisco.

At this hearing, each city will be presented with an opportunity to either amend positions which they had formerly taken or to confirm their positions regarding lands which they wish to control in the San Bruno Mountain area. Individual citizens and organizations will also be permitted to make presentations at the January 26 hearing. A staff report concerning final recommendations is not expected at this hearing.

3 Suspects Face Court

Three men suspected of participating in a number of Bay Area holdups were held to answer Thursday in Southern District Municipal Court to charges of armed robbery in holdups at the White Oaks Pharmacy in San Carlos last September 29 and November 17.

Judge Wilbur R. Johnson ordered the defendants, Ernest D. Lakey, 34, John H. Syzkiewicz, 27, and Vincent A. Smith, 30, to appear in Superior Court January 20 at 9 a.m. for arraignment.

Lakey and Syzkiewicz were arrested shortly before Christmas in Torrance, and Smith, a Daly City resident, was arrested earlier at his home.

In addition to the San Carlos holdups, the defendants are suspected of robberies in South San Francisco, San Bruno, San Francisco.

Students Set New Officers At CSM

Jim Hamilton has won the spring term presidency of the College of San Mateo Associated Students, it was announced today.

Meanwhile, Hamilton found himself presumably out of office as current vice president due to another vote in the same election.

While students were giving Hamilton a commanding majority they turned down a constutional amendment what would have lowered the requirement for holding office to carrying six units of study.

Hamilton has six and a half. The constitution requires ten. To take office this spring, the new president will have to increase his studies to ten units, a spokesman said.

He added that the student body council had set up a by-law that would have implemented the six-unit constitutional change had it been voted. Since it hasn't, he said, the council is expected today to refer the matter to the college student judicial council, if Hamilton wants to appeal.

Hamilton had 141 votes, Bruce Wellman, 95 and Bruce Morrison 42 in the weekend tally. Mark Stevens, with 158, defeated a write-in challenge by Cliff Keith, incumbent human relations president, who had 78.

Craig Tronoff Receives Eagle Scout Badge in DC

Craig Tronoff of 79 El Portal Way, Daly City recently was awarded the Eagle Scout Badge, the highest rank in scouting.

Troop 248 conducted the Court of Honor, recounting the record of the junior assistant scoutmaster.

Also participating in the ceremony, were Robert Colclough vice chairman-public relations of Serra District, BSA, who presented the newest Eagle Scout of Troop 248 with his letter of commendation, emblem and badge; and Ron Lee, Scoutmaster, Troop 3, Golden Gate District, BSA, who presented the Eagle Rank Card.

Lee was also the Scoutmaster of the World Jamboree Troop from the San Francisco Bay Area at the World Jamboree in Japan last summer, and Craig was a member of that troop.

Theodore Tronoff, JR., Craig's father, looked on as Mrs. Tronoff pinned the Eagle Badge on their son.

Mr. and Mrs. Tronoff are the parents of two Eagle Scouts, their older son, Bruce, having reached that rank previously.

Troop 248 meets every Wednesday evening at Westlake Park Clubhouse and is sponsored by the Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association.

New Large-Type Program by DC

As the result of the Daly City Host Lions Club's successful White Cane Days last October, persons who have difficulty reading conventional size print will be helped by a new program developed by the Daly City Public Library. President David Cehre said a $2200 gift to the library was made when the club's Sight Conversation Committee recommended, and the Board of Directors concurred, that many Daly City citizens would benefit from the program.

The plan was developed under City Librarian Samuel C. Chandler at the suggestion of Mrs. Vinton Stratton, president of the Friends of the Daly City Library, who also served as coordinator between the club and the library.

Sight Conservation Committee members include Gordon Cartwright, Dr. Nicholas Choppelas, Jack Giusto, Ray Logan and McRobert Stewart.

"This selfless move by the Host Lions Club is a true act of community service that will considerably aid our goal to serve the entire population of Daly City," Librarian Chandler said.

Large type books and periodicals are usually printed in 18 point type (¼-inch) or larger and are bigger in length and width than conventional materials. Subscriptions to "Readers Digest," "New York Times Magazine" and many new books, including mysteries, will be purchased in large type editions.

Chandler said that publishers are astute businessmen and want to be assured of high sales, thus, they don't publish large type materials or "talking books" until a demand is established; appearance on a best seller list is usually evidence that demand is high. Therefore, the latest materials are not available in either large type books or talking books, which are transcribed on record or tape.

To overcome this problem, the library plans to produce its own tape cassettes that will cover current materials — books, plays, articles, etc. — that would otherwise be unavailable. Cassette players will also be available on loan from the library for Daly City patrons, Chandler said.

Other "outreach" efforts being undertaken by the library and its community liaison organization, the Friends of the Daly City Library, include a "Bookpower Bus" serving the Black community each Friday, a program that brings books and other materials to patrons who are homebound or in convalescent hospitals, a nursery school program, and the establishment of collections of books in public places that may be borrowed on the honor system. Such a collection is currently being established in the Guadalupe Neighborhood Health Center on Mission Street.

The Westmoor High School P-TA counts as "successful" the first half of the 1971-72 school year with the membership listed at more than 275 members.

Chairmen were Mrs. George Plichcick, Mrs. Leonard Berglund and Mrs. Jack Bjorkquist working with the board members and committee helpers.

Activities so far have been College Night in October with over 500 students and adults in attendance; "Back to School Night" in November; and the annual Flea Market in cooperation with the Student Body clearing $250.

Ways and Means Chairman was Mrs. George Thompson.

Involvement with student activities became an important goal of the P-TA and evolved into a new award to be presented to the team or student who brings an award back to Westmoor from final competition but receives no individual recognition.

First recipients were the 120 basketball team.

Plans are also being made to make awards to outstanding students who have made significant contributions to the school during the year.

An interest in community involvement will produce an unusual program for March concerning the 18-year-old vote and its effect on the election issues with a panel of prominent leaders and students presenting the program.

Every year, two million American seniors take the three-hour Scholastic Aptitude Test, set up by the College Entrance Examination Board as a standard measure of ability in rating college-bound students.

The SAT scores are required by most colleges, universities, and private schools before an applicant is considered. Although its purpose is to measure a student's aptitude and ability to do college level work, it has always focused on just two subjects, math and English, through questions dealing with the reasoning of verbal and mathematical terms.

Because of the limited subject areas covered in the test (which are sometimes the entire basis for the rating and selection of students), many students who probably could do well in other subjects or who may do poorly in one subject like math and excel in other subjects not included in the test, are penalized, and their chances of getting into a college are considerably lessened.

Since gaining entrance to college is getting more difficult, the results of the SAT are often disastrous to many bright or talented students looking forward to a college education.

THIS PROBLEM has been brought to the attention of the College Entrance Board in the past, and a commission of 21 educators was organized three years ago to investigate it. At the end of its three year study, the commission urged extensive reform of the testing program. It found the SAT to be too narrow a measure to apply to all who might benefit from college.

As a result of the investigation, a voluntary "Student Description Questionnaire" has been added to the 1971-72 SAT. The questionnaire is not another test, but a series of questions. Students are asked to tell about their plans, backgrounds, and activities. Among the items on the questionnaire are questions concerning intended fields of study, educational objectives, ethnic background, participation in extra-curricular activities, class ranking and class size. Students are also asked to rate themselves on a series of 14 skills, covering a wide range of subjects and fields, such as ability to get along with others, clerical ability, athletic ability, study habits, etc.

THE QUESTIONNAIRE is sent to the colleges indicated by the student, along with his SAT and Achievement Test scores.

Development Of Hillsides LWV Subjects

Hillside development will be the subject for discussion at the next set of units of the League of Women Voters of North San Mateo County. The chairman of this local study, Mrs. Pat Robinson, and her committee have listed the following areas for discussion:

These units are not only for discussion of the subject of "hillsides" but for the purpose of providing background for a general meeting on hillside development scheduled for Saturday, January 29, 2 to 4 p.m., at the Breuner's Community Room, 301 Gellert Boulevard (near Serramonte).

This meeting is being cosponsored by the Pacifica Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The units will meet as follows:

Pacifica Unit — January 19, 9:30 a.m., St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, 1031 Valencia Way, Pacifica.

San Bruno-South San Francisco Unit — January 20, 9:30 a.m., St. Thomas Lutheran Church, 250 Cortland Drive, San Bruno.

Evening Unit — January 20, 7:45 p.m., 56 Parkwood Drive, Daly City.

The North County League covers the cities of Daly City, San Bruno, South San Francisco, Pacifica, Brisbane and Colma. All persons of voting age are invited to attend league meetings.

Progressive Dinner for Local Cadettes; SME Program Hit

A progressive dinner, singing between and at the homes of the adults, was enjoyed recently by girls of Cadette Troop 8. The winter rains were absent, so the Scouts enjoyed an abundance of singing and good food.

Soup was served at the home of troop leader Mrs. John Young, salad at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pleich, the main ccurse at the home of Mrs. L. V. Clancy, dessert at the home of Mrs. J. A. Provenzale. A party followed at the home of Mrs. T. T. Themis.

Guests included R. Thurman and Miss Diane Provenzale.

Scouts enjoying the outing were Nancy Bandoni, Catherine, Elizabeth and Rosemarie Caserza, Debbie Firpo, Theresa Geaziani, Dana Clancy, Vickie Morino, Karen Pleich, Judy Provenzale, Deena Quigley, Sandy Thimis, Debbie Thurman, Laura Tschirgi, Lori Whitaker and Paulette Young.

"DADS FOR DAUGHTERS", the local Sustaining Membership Enrollment program of fund-raising, coordinated locally by Paul Walters, announces its traditional "Captains Courageous."

The assistant association coordinators include Fred Plageman, Al McGuirk, Jim Wyatt, E. F. (Gene) Murray, Jim Scott, George Gustofson and Larry Sheerin.

The distaff side of the community includes Mesdames Shirley Figone and Bobby Coppock. Each of Walters' assistants is responsible for at least five troop assignments.

SME reflects the need for social agencies becoming more self-supporting as UBAC funds are cut back because of insufficient collections.

PINNED AS NEW Brownie Girl Scouts at the recent investitute and rededication of Daly City Troop 717 were Dana Aldrich, Zenith Cuyugan, Rowena Mallari, Jackie Parris, Yanira Silva, Britta Sundberg and Pamela Wong.

Also being taken into the troop, but unable to attend was Pat Davis. The opening ceremony of colors was presented by experienced Brownies Melanie Dunevent, Janet Scott, Mary Shamma and Laura Connell.

The "Brownie Smile Song" and cookies and coffee were offered to the parents. The troop is led by Mesdames Adeeb R. Shamma, Warren Scott and W. E. Aldrich Jr.

Westlake Lutheran Church was the setting.

PRESENTING the recent flag ceremony at the John F. Kennedy School program were Cadette Girl Scouts of Daly City Troop 6.

Slides Seen In Daly City

Mrs. Robert Busher, speaker at the recent Daly City Garden Club's meeting at the Daly City War Memorial Community Center, showed a variety of color slides of all types of horticulture.

One of the high-lights was the Pygmy Forest in Mendocino County. The trunks of the trees are as small as a finger.

Mrs. Busher is director of the Bay Ocean District, vice president and program chairman of Garden Club Study, and an accredited amateur flower show judge.

The Jeff Scene

Shark Band Accepting Area Dates

By SUE MCALLISTER

The holiday season has come and passed. We are now in a new year. The memories of the true spirit of the season will live in the minds of two groups of Jeff students giving the greatest gifts of all — themselves.

The students from the band and the E.S.E.A. program went into the community to spread "Joy."

In their separate projects they covered a small part of two important group, the young and the old.

The band in its excursion visited Villa Sanitarium on Vale Street to carol through the halls.

Children from the Head Start Program were guests of a party and gifts from Santa planned and directed by students from the E.S.E.A.

These students organized all aspects of the party which included games, presents from Santa Claus, a pinata, movies, treats, records and lunch.

The participants included Liz Rosa, Mike Harra, Judy Bergley, Maria Thomas, Mickie Hatre, Roberts Harper, Carol Ann Bordman, Teter McCrum, Carol Tiege, Sharon Devlin, Linda Gomez, Jackie Hastings, Rod Martinez, Mike Crowder, Fred Jonge, Fred Pereira, Margia Talivara, Larry Peterson, Sandy Greathouse, Carol Johnson, Sharon Kroner; Jim Devlin, Linda Arterburn.

A class ring from a graduating class of the 50's has been found at George Washington High School in San Francisco and returned to Jeff.

Football season may be over, but members of Oceana's Shark Band are not letting grass grow under their feet.

They are busy accepting concert dates from nearby colleges and performing their own concerts at elementary schools in the communities which send incoming freshmen students to Oceana High School.

The Shark Band will perform Friday at San Francisco State College where the San Francisco basketball team will host Stanislaus State College.

Shark bandsmen will provide the music.

Attending with the band will be the Spirit Staff of Oceana.

San Francisco State has invited selected high schools bands in the Bay Area to be guests at these evening basketball games.

The Shark Band performed January 11 at Pacifica Heights School in San Bruno and San Andreas School in Pacifica.

The purpose of these concerts is to interest incoming freshmen in the music program at Oceana.

On January 18 the band will perform at Sharp Park and Fairmont Schools in Pacifica.

Later in the spring, the K-6 schools in the communities will receive a visit from the Shark Bandsmen.

To assist the band in accomplishing its long-range goals, the parents of the Shark Bandsmen are putting a student-parents organization together to raise funds to completely outfit the band members in new uniforms.

MEMBERS of Riordan High School's Guild are reminded to keep January 15 clear so they may assist with the Inventory Evening at the downtown branch of the Emporium.

According to Mrs. John Ferguson, publicity chairman for the guild, the ladies will be asked to work from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. in this annual money making project. Everyone is asked to be on hand when the work assignments are made, Mrs. Freguson said.

The guild's other money making venture, the famous cook book, is still available to anyone who sends $3.50 to "Cook Book," Riordan High School, 175 Phelan Avenue, San Francisco, 94112. Be sure that you have enclosed your name and address with your order.

LAST EVENING the guild meeting was enlivened by the presentation of a discussion on Marriage Preparation by Dr. Thomas J. Caldarola and his vivacious wife, Toddy.

Mrs. Hugh McNab, the program chairman, reported that parents are encouraged to prepare their sons for adult life and sometimes they feel the need for assistance. Dr. and Mrs. Caldarola have a great deal of knowledge and some of the answers parents are seeking, Mrs. McNab said. Everyone who was in the audience last evening should feel they are more prepared to help their sons when the need arises!

Also, a part of last night's program was the official expression of appreciation to the room mother chairman, Mrs. Charles Carey and the women who work with her. Guild president Mrs. Raymond Rinaldi cited the room mothers for their hard work and the degree of organization that they exhibit, Mrs. Ferguson said.

IT IS TIME to start thinking about that marvelous crab Cioppino dinner that has become traditional with so many of the men of Daly City.

Sponsored annually by the Westlake Catholic Men of the Our Lady of Mercury Parish, the stag event ts in its sixteenth year and still drawing capacity crowds each time, according to Mrs. Donald Gianfermo, publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women.

The Crab Cioppino dinner will be held in the parish hall on Elmwood Drive on Friday, Jauary 21, and reservations will be sold until Monday, January 21, and reservations will be sold until Monday, January 17.

Mrs. Gianfermo indicated that tickets are $4 each and advance reservations are a must as no tickets will be sold at the door and there will be no "take-out service " this year.

The doors to the hall will open at 6 p.m. for before dinner refreshments. Supper will be served at 7 p.m.

Two sets of travelers are back in their Peninsula homes following eventful holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray H. Freedman and sons Rick and Jeff spent a week on the East coast where they visited Mrs. Freedman's family, Mrs. Jacob Dec, her mother and her sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. John Soltis and Mr. and Mrs. "A" Alvino.

The Alvinos and the Freedman clan were able to attend the Papermill Playhouse production of the Last of the Red Hot Lovers starring Shelley Berman in Millburn, New Jersey, before the California contingent moved on to New York City to see "Follies" with Alexis Smith and to celebrate the coming new year with a December 31 visit to the theater for No! No! Nanette with Ruby Keeler.

Like so many, many others the Freedmans left the theater to gather in the crowded Time Square area to watch the little ball descend slowly as the old year slipped away and the new event filled day with the return to their quarters in the New year made its noisy entrance. The Freedmans wound up the York Hilton.

HOME from abroad are the R. L. Arianis and their daughters Margaret and Dianna.

The Ariani family visited London, England where artist Mary Ellen and daughters visited the art galleries while husband, Roe, luncheoned with Dr. James Cyriax, the author of the Text Book of Orthopedia Medicine, now in its fifth edition.

"Photography with a Difference" titles this month's show at Periwinkle Art Gallery, Pedro Point, Pacifica. The work of two photographers, Mary Ellen Schultz and Howard Miyata, will be exhibited through January 30.

Mary Ellen Schultz worked as a portrait photographer and was associated with Francis Boselli of Don Bosco Studios. She studied photography with Al Joyce of the Camera Tree, Burlingame, and at College of San Mateo.

Mrs. Schultz also exhibited at the San Mateo Fiesta. This year she was given recognition for her "raindrop" series which is currently on display at the gallery.

Mrs. Schultz said she specializes in "photography with a difference." She employes a softness of focus to capture a mood in many of her pictures. In this collection there are blades of grass touched by sun.

There is a spider's wed with drops of water like strings of pearls against a background of ethereal greenness.

There are raindrops and reflections. She has seen something and hopefully shares it with those who view her work.

Howard Miyata's accomplishments with black and white photography have been the culmination of a lifetime of dreams.

Miyata first received recognition for his work in high school in Chicago, while working for school publications covering social events and sporting activities.

After high school he entered the Navy and ultimately served as ship's photographer. Returning to Chicago, he was active in the Lincoln Park Camera Club.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Last week I promised to share some recipes from a very interesting new cookbook I received for Christmas. This booklet was compiled by the Women of Lutheran Church of Good Shepherd in San Francisco, and has many new and different recipes.

A delicious and nutritious way to serve ground meat is this first recipe. Combining it with spinach, egg, cheese and mushroom soup.

SPINACH MEAT BALLS

1 pound ground chuck
1 package frozen chopped spinach
1 medium onion, minced
1 egg
1 can Cream of Mushroom soup
½ can water
3 Tablespoons Parmesan cheese
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste

Cook the package spinach, placed in collander to cool and drain. Saute the minced onion in small amount of oil and mix with the pound beef. Add the one egg, drained spinach, three tablespoons Parmesan cheese, half teaspoon salt and pepper to taste. Form in balls, roll in flour and brown in fat or oil. Place in lightly greased casserole. Combine the one can cream of mushroom soup and half can water and pour over meatballs. Bake in 350-degree oven about 40 minutes. Makes four generous servings.

This next recipe is for a fancy salad, since it makes a large quantity, serves 10 to 12, I'd suggest that you save this recipe for a special occasion with a large gathering.

TWENTY-FOUR HOUR SALAD

2 cups white cherries, Queen Anne, halved and seeded
2 cups diced pineapple
2 cups quartered marshmallows
2 cups orange sections, fresh oranges
¼ pound almonds, blanched and chopped

In a large bowl combine the two cups each, Queen Anne cherries, diced pineapple, quartered marshmallows and orange sections. Add the fourth pound blanched almonds.

DRESSING

2 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar
1¼ cups whipping cream (a half pint will do)
Juice of 1 lemon

Beat the two eggs until light, add the two tablespoons sugar, one-fourth cup of the whipping cream and juice of one lemon. Mix thoroughly and cook in double boiler until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Cool. Whip the remaining cream and fold into cooled mixture.

Pour this dressing over fruit and mix lightly. Let stand for 24 hours or more in refrigerator. Serve on crisp lettuce with a garnish of whipped cream, if desired. Serves 10 to 12.

Another promise for the New Year was to repeat a more simplified version of the Scripture Cake. This cake, too, came from the Good Shepherd Cookbook.

SCRIPTURE CAKE

½ cup Judges 5:25 (butter)
1 cup Jeremiah 6:20 (sugar)
3 Isaiah 10:14 (eggs)
3 tablespoons I Samuel 14:25 (honey)
½ teaspoon Leviticus 2:13 (salt)
2 cups I Kings 4:22 (flour)
2 teaspoons Amos 4:5 (baking powder)
1 teaspoon II Crhonicles 9:9 (nutmeg)
1 teaspoon Exodus 30:23 (cinnamon)
½ cup Judges 4:19 (milk)
1 cup Nahum 3:12 (figs, chopped)
1 cup Numbers 1:78 (sliced almonds)
1 cup I Samuel 30:12 (raisins)

Cream the half cup butter with the one cup sugar. Add the three cups flour with the half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons bakthree cups flour with the half teaspoon slat, two teaspoons baking powder and one teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg. Add to creamed mixture alternately with the half cup milk. Stir in the one cup each, figs, sliced almonds and raisins. Fold in beaten egg whites last.

Bake in lightly greased 9x13-inch pan in 325-degree oven for about 45 minutes. Serve with whipped cream topping.

NOTE: I use a glass baking pan and find that cakes usually take a shorter baking time in it.

CORRECTION The correct baking time on the carrot cake featured in last week's column is 1½ hours.

Drawing, Oil Painting Slated

Miss Susan Brenner will instruct a spring drawing and oil painting class for adults, under the sponsorship of the Daly City Recreation Department.

The class is designed for beginning and intermediate students. All classes will be held at the Arts and Crafts Center, 101 Peoria.

Classes will be conducted on Thursdays, January 13 through March 16 from 12:30-330 p.m.

Students will select individual projects and may determine their own pace. There is a registration fee of $18 for the 30 hours of instruction. Students are to furnish their own supplies. Class size is limited and a minimum of eight students is required to hold the course.

San Bruno's Fuchsia Unit Meeting Friday

The San Bruno Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will meet at 8 p.m on Friday at the Decima Allen School, 875 West Angus Ave., San Bruno.

At the Christmas Dinner enjoyed by members last month, officers were installed for 1972. They are president, Tod Anderson; first vice president, Mrs. Forrest Eby; second vice president, Jim Christensen; recording secretary, Mrs. Jim Christensen; treasurer, Mrs. Sam Comfrot, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Norman Cantley.

Directors are Allen Hamilton and Eric Wachter; Hostesses are Mrs. Andrea Duchi and Mrs. Joseph Monks, and Chairman of the Plant Table for 1972 is Carl Flick.

Mrs. Ruth Wilkinson will speak at the meeting about fuchsia culture for this time of year, demonstrating the proper pruning of a fuchsia basket and a fuchsia bush. During the coming month, various members of the San Bruno Branch will be giving home workshops in the pruning and repotting of fuchsias.

Block Parent Program Meet At Westlake

Westlake School's newly organized Block Parent program will be the major topic of the P-TA unit meeting January 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the school mutli-use room.

Lt. Phillip Labruzzo of the Daly City Police Department will discuss the do's and don'ts involved and describe some of the department's experiences with other Block Parent groups. Registration will take place during the evening.

Block Parents provide shelter for lost, injured or frightened chilren in the neighborhood until contact can be made with the school or police department.

All residents of the Westlake School neighborhood may serve as Block Parents. They need not have children of their own, and Senior Citizens at home during the day would be especially qualified. It is hoped that parochial school families in the area will also participate.

Interested persons who cannot attend this meeting may phone Mrs. Michael Daw, Mrs. Theodore Miller, committee chairmen, or the Westlake School office.

Skyline Morning T.O.P.S. is now meeting at the VISTA Mar Baptist Church, 610 Edgemar St., Pacifica.

The club meets each Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. 'til 11 a.m.

T.O.P.S. stands for Take Off Pounds Sensibly and is nonprofit. A member's doctor sets a weight goal and the meetings provide continuing group therapy.

Donna Kilfoil of San Bruno was recently appointed area captain for the Peninsula T.O.P.S. clubs.

BILL FEELEY, and Jim Davis both agree the gravy for the annual "Stag Crab Cioppino Feed" is going to be great. The fish feed, sponsored by the Westlake Catholic Men will be held Friday, January 21, in the parish hall. Dinner is planned for 7 p.m., but the doors will open an hour earlier for refreshments. Tickets at $4 are necessary and reservations are limited. Call Bill Feeley or Clyde Silverthorn before January 17 for reservations.

Barnaby Conrad Speaker At Mental Health Fundraiser

The Special Events Committee of the Mental Health Association (MHA) of San Mateo County, will present "An Evening with Barnaby Conrad."

Conrad will appear at the Airport Marina Hotel in Burlingame on Sunday, January 23, a champagne-art exhibit and buffet supper will preceed "The Adventure of Living," Conrad's topic.

Proceeds from this event will enable the MHA to establish Friendship Centers in Daly City and Redwood City. These centers are for the social rehabilitation of ex-mental patients and for those still undergoing therapy.

Centers now exist in San Bruno and San Mateo.

One of America's most versatile men, Conrad will recount some of the many adventures he has had in his astonishingly varied and whirlwind 48 years.

He has written hundreds of magazine articles for virtually all of the major magazines of America, had a syndicated newspaper column, and has published 15 books.

Perhaps he is best known as the author of "Matador," his 1952 best seller which has sold almost three million copies and is in its fifteenth printing, was a Book-of-the-Month Club selection, Reader's Digest Condensed Book Club choice, and has been translated into 18 foreign languages.

Another book, "Dangerfield," about an aging American novelist and his young mistress, was made into a Broadway play starring Franchot Tone, and his book "Tahiti," is considered by many to be the most complete guide to that glamorous island, while his "Encyclopedia of Bullfighting," is the bible for the aficionados of that spectacle. His most recent book, an autobiography entitled, "Fun While It Lasted," was included on the New York Times' "Outstanding Books of the Year" list for 1969.

Although always interested in writing, it was a six month stint as Sinclair Lewis' secretary in 1947 which really determined Conrad's profession. He tells about those horrendous months in this autobiography.

But apart from his writing career, he is a portrait painter and muralist and has had his paintings hung in such diverse places as the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco and the Royal Palace in Athens. He has illustrated many magazine articles and most of his own books. Publisher Bennett Cerf once said, "He's the only author I have who doesn't complain about his book jackets—because he does his own!"

He is also the only American to have fought bulls in Peru, Mexico and Spain! He began his taurine career when he was an art student in Mexico City and decided bullfighting looked easy, and jumped into the arena one day during a regular corrida. He quickly learned just how dangerous and difficult the Latin spectacle is and decided to study it.

He subsequently was injured and changed his mind about becoming a professional matador.

A graduate of Yale in 1943, Conrad entered the State Department and was sent to Spain as vice counsul. But bullfighting was in his blood now, and he began fighting again, tutored by such immortals of the ring as Juane Belmonte, Manolete and Carlos Arruza. He appeared in 1945 on the same program with Juan Belmonte and was awarded the ears of the dead bull for his outstanding performance. A severe goring in 1958 truncated his career once and for all.

Among his hobbies are: wood carving, raising wild animals, photography—and his six children, whose ages range from 6 to 18. When not skin diving in Bora Bora or following the bullfights in Spain, he and his beautiful decorator wife live in a Victorian house in Sank

Elaine M. Fontana Is Wed in S.S.F.

Fairfield is the first address for Mr. and Mrs. Archie Q. Smith Jr., who honeymooned in Hawaii after their recent marriage at All Souls Church in South San Francisco.

The bride is the former Elaine Marie Fontana. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fontana of Palos Verdes, former South San Francisco residents. The senior A. Q. Smiths of Suisun are the benedict's parents.

The Ecumenical Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Msgr. Eugene Gallingher and the Rev. John Zeltin. Gifts of bread and wine for the ceremony were presented by Karen Costello and the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dante Gagliani of South San Francisco.

Elaine said her vows in a pearl beaded peau de soie satin and lace gown styled with a shoulder-length veil. Her attendants were similarly gowned in long sleeved green crepe costumes.

Brenda Uyemura, the bride's Delta Gamma Sorority sister, was her maid of honor and secondary attendants included Patricia and Jacqueline Smith, Archie's sisters, Patricia Gagliani, Elaine's cousin, and Judy Kellebrew, Jane Armanino, Marcie Maffei and Ronda Vogel. Kristen McCracken served as flower girl for her uncle's wedding.

Best man duties were performed by Anthony Costa and guests were seated by Paul Alliguie, Richard Bohn, John Kellebrew, Steven Plagman, Gary Williams and William Borelli and Michael Gagliani, cousins of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple received felicitations at the San Mateo Elks Club. Guests included the J. E. Brennans, the Robert Hansons, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Brammers, Mr. and Mrs. John Costellos, Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Miller, Otila Gallegos and Nils Pierson, a of Los Angeles.

The new matron was graduated from Mercy High School and, the University of California at Los Angeles. She also is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Odardo Fotnana of South San Francisco. The benedict studied at Vallejo schools and Solano Junior College.

Area Newlyweds In Carmel Trip

Monterey, Carmel and Los Angeles were included on the honeymoon itinerary of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dubreuil (Victoria Ann Erickson) who were married at Our Lady of Angels Church.

The newlyweds, who received felicitations at the Millbrae Recreation Center, are now living in Sacramento where the bridegroom is stationed at McClelland Air Force Base.

Victoria is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Erickson of Millbrae. When she walked to the altar with her father, she was dressed in a floor-length satin gown appliqued with lace flowers and detailed with a high stand-up collar and long fitted sleeves trimmed in the same lace.

Lily Pazemenas, the maid of honor, set the style of dress for all the attendants in a dark red velveteen Empire gown. Secondary attendants were Carolyn Erickson, the bride's sister-in-law, Andred Dubreuil, Claude's sister, and Debbie Wright.

Edward Nagel was best man for the benedict who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dubreuil of San Mateo. Victoria's brothers, William Erickson of San Bruno and Ronald Erickson of Millbrae, shared ushering duties with Paul Baker, who is stationed with the U.S. Navy in Vallejo.

Hawaiian Honeymoon for Couple

Honeymooning in Kauai are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Smazenko who were married Saturday afternoon at St. Veronica's Church in South San Francisco. The Rev. Paul Coleman officiated at the 1 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at Brentwood Lodge.

The bride is the former Christine R. Harr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Harr of Honolulu who formerly lived on the Peninsula. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eggie Smazenko of Paulding, Ohio.

As Christine and her father approached the altar, she was wearing a long Empire gown of white dulcet satin with long, pointed sleeves and a high neckline. Alencon lace was appliqued to the dress and to the Watteau train. The bride's veil was caught by a pearl-encrusted Venice lace bandeau. She carried white flowers.

Margaret Bladet, her sister's matron of honor, wore a royal blue velvet Empire dress with lace trim at the high neckline and long sleeves. Her flowers were pink.

Bridesmaids were Judy Nurisio and Linda Hallett. They wore baby blue velvet Empire dresses and also chose pink flowers.

Mrs. Harr took her place in the family pew in a sleeveless white dress topped with a matching coat in pearls.

Dennis asked Charles Porchaska to be his best man. Guests were seated by Richard Friday and Ezio Nurisio.

The new matron was graduated from Mills High School and the College of San Mateo and has been working on the Peninsula as a medical secretary. She is also the sister of Shawn Harr.

Who'll be in The Running?

POLITICAL FLASHES — Former city attorney, former Daly City city councilman, former Municipal Judge Paul Hupf will take out nomination papers to run for one of the two Daly City council seats up for grabs in the April muni elections.

RUMOR MILL — If it's correct, you read it first right here. If it's wrong, forget it! Veteran Daly City Councilman Frank Pacelli will NOT run again. Business reasons. Pacelli has been a hard-working councilman (ABAG director, League of California Cities delegate, SFAAP Board of Control director, et al) for almost two decades.

UNOFFICIALLY DECLARED candidates for the Assembly June primaries thus far: D.C.'s straight-talking Councilman Louis J. Papan (Demo); San Bruno Councilman Tony Governale (Demo); recalled S.B. Councilman Ted Long (GOP); Supervisor Bob St. Clair (Demo) . . . and the list goes on. But it will all depend on what Assemblyman Leo Ryan does. If Leo goes for Congress, when and if San Mateo County gets another seat in the House of Representatives (and the district lines look right) the race will be on.

SOME FOLKS are trying to talk Jefferson Union High School Supt. Edward Morgan into running for Assembly this time around. Morgan sounds interested, but hasn't given the nod . . . yet.

FORMER COUNCILMAN Michael DeBernardi says that he will try to win back the D.C. council seat he lost last time around (he came in a poor sixth two years ago). And we hear postal worker and recalled S. B. Councilman Richard Griffith may try for the city clerk's post come April, but that's not likely. Neither Griffith nor Long may run for council elections this time around, in accordance with the State Government Code. We understand that the law says they must wait a year.

THE GOVERNMENT CODE (Chapter 3, sec. 3750) also states that any candidate in the last election who did not file with the county clerk a Disclosure Form, outlining contributions of $500 or more, may not enter the upcoming fracas. Some smarties get around this by only accepting $499. More on this later.)

FLASHY FLASH (No. 2) Muni Judge Charles Becker (Northern Judicial District) will run for the vacated seat of Superior Court Judge Joseph A. Branson in June. Becker is a Republican and has been passed over several times in recent years for elevation to the Superior Court bench. He was recently elected to a six-year term. If Becker does run for the post it will be a "free" ride. That is, he will not have to give up his muni post.

CONGRATS AND ALL THAT to D.C. City Planner John Walker and wife, Beverly, who are still showing off their Christmas present — Heather. The bouncing baby girl arrived on Christmas morning. A finer present, we can't imagine.

D.C. MAYOR BUD LYCETT gave an impromptu state of the city message at the swearing-in ceremonies for City Treasurer Anthony Zidich last week at city hall. The city is in great shape. The future looks great. The mayor feels great despite his recent surgery. And it was a great event.

CHARLES MASCHINOT is one guy you don't want on your tail. He's too determined. For the past 17 years he's been with the Daly City Police Department, first as a clerk and later as its one-man crime lab. On January 21, Charlie will pack his fingerprint kit and move into the county sheriff's crime lab in Redwood City. If Charlie goes after the Bad Guys for the sheriff as he has done for Chief Roland Petrocchi over the years, they'll have to build bigger prisons instead of tearing down existing ones.

BART'S AUSTERITY — The letterheads from BART may give their new Oakland address, but the envelopes still have the old 814 Mission Street, San Francisco return imprinted on them. Every cent counts, I guess.

GOOD FOR GREENWOOD — We mean Jefferson Elementary School District Superintendent Frank Greenwood. In the finest tradition of Hollywood, VP Spiro Agnew and Madison Avenue, super-teach is (again) pushing for the district to hire a public relations firm to let the people know what's going on in the schools besides just the "bad stuff." In our humble (but extremely proud) opnion, the first thing the district should do to improve its image while letting the folks know what's going on, is to get a new speaker system in that acoustically lousy meeting room of theirs. It IS a relief to know what the PR firm wants to push all the good news and not that "sensationalism" garbage the news media digs up. I suppose.

SOME NORTH COUNTY cities are looking for a holding facility for persons awaiting court appearances. Odds are they will not get space at the South City courthouse (new or old) and it's too costly to transport those arrested back and forth between Redwood City and the North County courts. May we suggest the Old Daly City City Hall on Wellington with its basement jail facility and second floor Muni Courtroom? Or is that too far-fetched? It would not only serve the intended "holding" purpose, but might also justify keeping that Muni Court in Daly City.

Letter Makes Interesting Reading

South San Francisco's officials received copies of a letter from District Attorney Keith Sorenson the other day that would make intresting reading for residents.

It had to do with those city council expense accounts.

In South San Francisco, four councilmen receive a flat $50 a month expense money. No questions asked. The fifth councilman (serving as mayor) is paid monthly "expenses" of $75. Apparently it costs more to be the mayor.

This money is never accounted for by the city's officials. It's just an addendum to their allotted $200 a month salary. It is justified by Government code number 36514.5. But some are questioning whether that is not stretching that code number a bit.

The letter from Sorenson would make interesting reading for residents because Sorenson has placed the matter back in the citizens' lap.

REFERRING to Government code number 36514.5, Sorenson said, "There is no question that Government code number 36514.5 allows reimburseoent only for expenses actually incurred." This is the position being taken by some concerned citizens.

However, Sorenson in the next breath says, "There is no specific requirement for the filing of an itemized claim and there is no such requirement imposed by ordinance." This apparently is the position taken by city officials, who don't blink an eye as they pocket their "expense" money.

Maybe there should be an ordinance spelling out that city councilmen be required to substantiate the expendeture of taxpayers' monies? Or even a state law?

Sorenson's letter cotinued: "If this matter concerned practices in county government, the Grand Jury would have jurisdiction to take appropriate action to make corrections.

"However, the law does not authorize Grand Juries to involve themselves with the operation of city government except where criminal conduct is involved or where such missconduct in office occurs as warrants removal from office," said Sorenson.

DOESN'T THAT sound a lot like it being the citizen's responsibility to make sure his local government operates to his satisfaction? The citizen must ask himself if he approves of officials spending taxpayers' money without accounting for it.

Remember San Bruno? Two councilmen were recalled simply because of a city manager they hired.

Besides, if John Q. Public does indeed want to pay his representative at city hall more money, there's a government code section that covers that too.

Sorenson, in a few more words, said that "in the absence of evidence of criminal conduct this (D.A.'s) office should not take any action except to call it to the attention of the city council," which has been done.

He did leave one thought, however. That was that ". . . the practice of paying flat predetermined amounts for expenses to city councilmen and the mayor may very well be subject to attack by a taxpayers' suit . . ."

It appears that if you're at all concerned how your money is spent South San Francisco resident, the next move is yours.

Better Business Bureau

'Cooperated Fully' in Rosenthal Study

By LORENE BEASLEY

The Council of Better Business Bureaus and the member bureaus throughout the country have not only been aware since early summer, 1971, of the study being conducted by Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal and his staff but they cooperated fully in providing specific information to the congressman.

However, significant actions taken by the newly formed council and bureaus during the past six months have been completely overlooked in the Rosenthal document. Rosenthal, in the 68-page report, called for a drastic overhaul of the bureau's financing because business finances the Better Business Bureau. According to the report, this poses an "almost insurmountable conflict of interest."

The Council of Better Business Bureaus was formed in January, 1971, to be a bridge in the gap between consumer expectation and business performance and to work in harmony solving the problems of the market place.

"As a result of our own continuous investigations," J. Bruce Palmer, president of the council, said, "We know our shortcomings as well as our strong points and the steps we must take to eliminate the problems." Through the council, whose members compose the nation's most influential executives, it is hoped that the top of the power structure will be reached, creating the climate of a new business conscience to match the new consumer conscience.

IN THE PAST YEAR many new programs have been launched and many steps taken to improve the BBB system prior to and since the research was done for the Rosenthal report. The bureau telephone systems have been expanded and upgraded. A network of consumer arbitration panels aimed at voluntary resolution of complaints have been launched in 35 areas.

A pilot operation, in a computer system, a tie-in of all bureaus to a National Consumer Data Bank, will contain information on consumer attitudes and responses, promotions and advertising practices and product and service performance.

The bureaus are encouraged by the council to be fearless in investigating and exposing. Trim-A-Way Contouring, Ltd., filed a $2 million suit against the council in September, 1970, following an adverse BBB report on the firm's operations. A unanimous decision was handed down on June 22, 1971, by a five-judge Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of New York State, clearing the council of libel and slander charges.

IN ADDITION to clearing the council, the court stated that the preliminary injunction issued by a lower court for the complainant should not have been granted and costs and disbursements were awarded the council.

A major move into the field of self-regulation of national advertising is the restructured National Advertising Division of CBBB which is operating in cooperation with the newly created National Advertising Review Board to assure truthfulness in advertising to all consumers.

"The consumerism problem is serious," Mr. Palmer stated. "It has the potential of upsetting the delicate balance of our entire system, and it must be solved. But, if business created the problem, then business must solve it and business needs all the help it can get without restrictive rules."

Nearing the Metallic Age

WE'RE sure it's not a kin-original, but our younger brother describes the Metallic Age, which he believes we're nearing, but which he'll never see, as:

"Silver in your hair, gold in your teeth, rust in your joints and lead in your . . ."

Anyone you know?

REMEMBER THAT "Conflict of Interest" lawsuit brought by Mrs. Beverly Forrester (now a Jefferson Elementary District trustee) against the City of Daly City and JESD Trustee Edward Tomasello?

The suit has been hanging fire for so long we don't remember HOW old it really is. (You'll recall it involves an allegation that there was a conflict of interest on Tomasello's part when he voted to spend school-tax derived funds on recreation while he is an employee (Recreation Superintendent) of the City.

We hear it's coming up for pre-trial hearing on the 19th, then to court on the 21st.

EVER SINCE the San Francisco Area CHP took over I-280 patrolling, the chances you'll see one (or one will see YOU, huh?) are better. Gee, are they ever out on the road since the New Year!

IS-IT-TRUE DEPT.??? That Bill Schumacher will be quitting as JESD trustee by April? . . . That JESD teachers' negotiators are displeased because trustees granted employes an unsolicited two per cent pay boost, thereby killing the usual teacher organization claim, Look What We Did for You?

OTHER EDUCATION NOTES, P-TA Branch: State Education Chief Wilson Riles has turned down (busy-busy!) a Jefferson Council of P-TA's request that he address them on "Tri-County Busing" and other pertinent, timely issues . . . Same Council is conducting study on same subject; also is supporting state-mandated PPBS (current series in this issue) because as one P-TA leader explains, "It's about time we can evaluate some of this stuff." Veteran educator Miss Marge Tobias is the JESD's PPBS specialist.

Letters to the Editor

Mafia Didn't Bring Crime to the USA

Editor, The Post:

People today say: The Mafia is a secret society of Italians and Sicilians rebellious against law, and known as the Black Hand; also Mafia.

It's funny, every person I talk to about the Mafia, is not afraid to say anything against the Mafia.

The FBI can tell us everything about every other organization but can't seem to pinpoint the real truth about the Mafia.

The Mafia is a nice thing to have around when you want to run down the Italians

Just for the record, I would like to say, it was the Italians who built South San Francisco and are still its backbone?

As far as Crime, the Mafia did not bring it to America. The Crime - Game was already in the hands of the Irish and the Jews!

Today, we do not have to fear the Black Hand, what we have to fear, is Black Power.

Why don't the movies make an Anti-Black story about Angela Davis?

Let me see now, what did you say was the name of that society that was rebellious against law?.

Oh yes , it's those Black Italians!. the Sicilians !.

RICHARD L. JENNINGS,
South San Francisco.

Editor, The Post:

I would like to correct, or at least to amplify, a statement that appeared in your lead editorial of December 22, entitled "The Music of Christmas," which reads: "Most of the Christmas carols are of English and German origin, although some came from the Latin countries."

I am sure that what you meant to say was that English and German Christmas music is most popular in the United States. Surely you are aware that Mexico, Italy, and France celebrate the birthday of Jesus with a great body of song of their own making. Children in Spain sing "El Rocio Celestial" with perhaps even more Christmas spirit than is possible with Rudolph the Rednose Reindeer. We of Latin culture celebrate Christmas with posadas, pinatas, and song that means every bit as much to us as the English and German music that you mention, and which we also enjoy and appreciate because we live here too.

I am sure you would think it ludicrous if you read in a Mexican newspaper something like, "Most Christmas carols are of Spanish origin," but this is exactly how your editorial reads in reverse. In the spirit of Christmas, let us be more sensitive to others in using words that might be misunderstood. A newspaper must be aware that it is writing to all the people, not just to those who think like the editors, in order to carry out its high trust.

With all the personal respect that this Season brings, I wish you success in performing your mission, and hope I have helped just a bit.

MARTIN ESTRADA,
Daly City.

Editor, The Post:

Guess my letter won't make much sense to you, but I'll tell it anyway.

I'm 18 years old, no long hair or etc. with 9½ years of schooling for the neurologically handicapped. I am also a veteran. I was discharged Dec. 1, 1971, with a general discharge with honorable conditions.

I am entitled to veterans' unemployment but the office says that I don't qualify because I don't have a car to drive, without relying on my parents, therefore I'm not really looking for work. I've got a beginner's license and I've hitchhiked to an area of 15 miles looking for a job from my home town. If offered a job, I've plenty of transportation from my family and friends.

I'm appealing their decision, however, they say I don't stand much of a chance until I've got my own car.

Just maybe if you print my do? I need my unemployment checks for food, clothes and gas.

Just maybe if you print my letter other boys will see just what a high school education means. Don't be so fast throwing school out the window as I know just what being called stupid and dumb means.

Parents Should Read This One

The United States Public Health Service estimates that every year in this country some 700,000 children are injured by toys; a half a million more by swings and 200,000 by slides. Moreover many of the toys marketed in the United States would be legally banned as unsafe and dangerous in Great Britain and West Germany.

"Toys That Don't Care" by Edward M. Swartz is an examination of the toy industry. It has been called a "carefully documented, frightening, logical indictment of the American toy industry."

Swartz charges that lack of safety standards make it possible for manufacturers to market toys that get hot enough to sear the flesh off of a child or explode in his face, or deadly enough to poison him, or sharp enough to stab him, or capable to hit him with a pellet that can break his bones.

CITING CANDY cigarettes as an example, the author writes there is a special class of toys that are created with total indifference to the fact that they lead to undesirable practices in adult life. In this class he names toy guns, hot wheels, crashmobiles, the body-snatcher hearse and games that glorify war.

Swartz reports that nearly every toy maker in America manufactures machines capable of making objects which look like food, although made of dangerous plastic and, to further confuse children, they make machines which make edible but horrible objects — spiders, worms, bugs of plastic.

The confusion that has resulted has caused many poisonings and some deaths.

With pictures to illustrate Mr. Swartz charges that toy stoves, easy-bake ovens and many other electric toys, whether operated by a cord or batteries, are dangerous to children in that they are made of materials that cannot stand the heat, or they operate on light bulbs that are exposed and may burn the child.

In a section of his book entitled "Shopper's Guide: Toys To Avoid of Discard," the author groups dangerous toys into types and names many well known but harmful toys, among them a Barbie doll with flammable hair and the failiar etch-a-sketch.

THROUGHOUT THE BOOK the author warns that there are products made for children that are harmful, although not considered toys. Such items as blankets and comforters, made of flammable materials are mentioned. A special area considered are dishes, games and toys sold with coupons from cereal boxes.

At the end of the book, Swartz lists some general rules for the selection of toys. These alone make "Toys That Don't Care" a book adults should read.

Changing the Worn Habits

The quality of American life is deeply affected by habit, and as with old furniture and personal effects, we cling to practices and institutions simply because they are there.

Last week Governor Reagan in delivering his "State of the State" address touched upon several worn habits and tattered concepts. Should he succeed in changing four of these, he would have deeply and favorably affected the quality of life in California and likely the nation.

First: Prison reform. Actually, the changes here have been going on for some time. The Governor's announcement of the closing of San Quentin highlighted recent improvements and gives promises of more.

The declining prison population is, of course, what makes this move possible. Inmate population is down — from a high of 29 thousand to 20 thousand. For the first time more convicted offenders are on parole than in prison, and the recidivism rate is at a low level.

While the Warden of San Quentin may sense "nostalgia at seeing the old ship go down after all these years," his sense of remembrance must be compared with that of those who regretted the end of World War II, and those who lamented the passing of the good old days of the deep depression.

May this stinking old ship sink tomorrow.

Second, it is convenient to consider three of the Governor's suggestions as a group.

An extraordinary characteristic of America is the widespread ownership of real and personal property. Millions own land, stocks, bonds, bank accounts, and marketable chattels. These constitute the reserves of each citizen, and stand between him and domination by others. Eliminate family reserves, and our society of free men becomes a mob — subject to the daily whim of scoundrels. In a very real sense, such holdings make it possible for our democratic and representative institutions to work.

In the old days abolition of private property was seriously urged by a scraggly band of radicals. Their fundamental defeat was marked by the continuing spread of private ownership. Instead of dying out, capitalism flourished, and we have become a nation of owners. While some, living below the poverty line, have yet to achieve this condition, the great majority of American families have accumulated some reserves against the risks of the future.

It should be remembered that for most people, the extent of such reserves is not great. A house, a car, a bank account, a pension fund and not much more. These will withstand some misfortune, but cannot be expected to meet calamity.

Unlike the days of threatened abolition, the concept of private property is under insidious attack that has a chance of success. The seriousness of the attack can be understood by identifying its source. For the institution of private property is menaced by other practices and habits that have attained institutional status. Three of these were mentioned by Governor Reagan in his address.

Medical catastrophy threatens all but the most affluent. Small medical bills are vexatious, but not the real problem, for they can be paid and are often covered by insurance. But prolonged hospitalization and treatment are something else again. Here, the accumulations of a lifetime can rapidly evaporate.

When one considers that we all live with the risk of serious illness, its psychological effect cannot be minimized. In a real sense this challenge to the limited reserves of most citizens makes them less free. They are pawn to chance, and less likely to behave as free men.

In mentioning no-fault insurance, the Governor identified another challenge to the stability of the American family. In this area random chance again imperils the unfortunate.

Finally, in discussing taxes, especially property taxes, the Governor mentioned the most serious danger of all. Nowhere does the American political system, which can thrive only in the milieu of private property, more directly strike at its own foundation. Should our governmental system use the power of taxation to destroy the concept of home ownership, it would probably thereby have taxed away the confident freedom of our citizens, and, in turn, have taxed itself out of existence.

Governor Reagan is to be congratulated and encouraged in his efforts to change some of the old ways. Such changes are required if we are to remain free men.

Local Matmen Star in Tourney

League competition resumes this week for Skyline and Canada College wrestling teams after the two Camino Norte Conference squads came away with one champion and one near miss in the Cal Poly Tournament at San Luis Obispo over the weekend.

Skyline's Tom Cherhoniak upset hometown favorite John Apodaca of Cuesta with a 7-5 decision in the finals of the 134 pound division while Canada's Horace Hurst lost the 177 pound finals to Tim Bandel of Orange Coast on a judges' decision in overtime.

Skyline placed seventh with 32½ points and Canada ninth with 26 among the 34 teams entered. Cypress College from Orange County won the proceedings with 77½ points.

Skyline 126 pounder Mike Villarreal took fourth place, losing twice to third place finisher Tom Foss of Golden West—including 5-1 in the finals. Only other county place winner was Hal Morris of Canada, fifth at 190 pounds.

DC Soccer Teams Set Play in SF

The close of 10 weeks of play in the Daly City Soccer League was marked by the award ceremony at which John Cannon, recreation supervisor, and Al Rodrigues, U.S. Olympic soccer squad; and Herb Bethge, head coach, Westlake International Soccer Club, presented first and runners-up ribbons.

Boys were honored in four separate divisions: Under 8; Under 10; Under 12 and Under 14.

The entire coaching staff was drawn from the Westlake International Soccer Club, advised by Rodrigues, who is a product of Daly City high school soccer and later a member of an outstanding San Jose State College team.

What the boys have learned will shortly be put to the test as under the general sponsorship of the Daly City Recreation Department and as members of the Westlake International Soccer Club.

Five squads will compete in the San Francisco PAL Winter League, sponsored by A & G Appliance Store, Westlake Home Improvement Association, Westlake Shopping Center, and Civic Center 66 Station.

The Under 8 Division will play all its games at Ben Franklin Playground.

Kearns AC Wins DC Cage Tourney

Nine teams participated in the Daly City Recreation Department's high school Yuletide cage tournament. Kearns AC won it.

Results:

GAME ONE: Regents 40, Red Hots 22 — The Regents proved to be too balanced for the Red Hots to handle. The win advanced the Regents into the winner's bracket. Rich Counts was the leading scorer for the Regents with 12 points. Jeff Baca scored 10 points to also aid the Regent's cause.

GAME TWO: OLM 41, Pacers 22 — Brian Hull's 12 points enabled OLM to streak past the Pacers by a score of 41-22. The victory moved OLM into the winner's bracket. Joe Sleeper and Bob Cremen scored eight points each for OLM.

GAME THREE: Castoffs 59, Southern Hills 41 — Jerry Stoller and Lance Judd proved too much for Southern Hills as they led the Castoffs.

Stoller scored 22 points while Judd pumped in 14. Dave Ginilo scored 14 for Southern Hills.

GAME GOUR: Vista Mar 61, Regents 50 — Terry Mahoney and Ted Scott led Vista Mar into the winner's bracket of the tournament by defeating the Regents. Mahoney scored 16 points and was Vista Mar's most outstanding rebounder. Scott scored 12 points to aid the Vista Mar cause. Jeff Baca scored 15 points for the Regents.

GAME FOUR: Vista Mar 61, Hot Shots 37 — The Hot Shots played without ace scorer Gregg Georgakas and were defeated by a fine Kearns AC Ball club by a score of 47-37. Bob McLennan scored 15 points and Bryan Clark had 10 points to lead Kearns AC to the victory. Bill Allen scored 14 for the Hot Shots, backed up by Dave Fritz' 12 points.

GAME SIX: Southern Hills 38, Pacers 30 — Southern Hills defeated the Pacers 38-30 and knocked the Pacers out of the tournament. The victory moved Southern Hills a step closer to the consolation championship. Kyle Tarzian scored 22 points to lead the Southern Hills team to victory. Bob Counts, Bob Ireton and Walt Rodriguez played very well in the tournament for the Pacers.

GAME SEVEN: Red Hots 37, Southern Hills 21 — Cory Price and Tim Rea scored 10 points each to lead the Red Hots into the consolation championship by defeating Southern Hills 37-21. Price and Rea proved to be too hot for Southern Hills to handle. Dave Bellusci scored nine points. The loss knocked Southern Hills out of the tourney.

GAME EIGHT: Hot Shots 56, Regents 37 — Dave Fritz scored a tournament high of 23 points in leading the Hot Shots into the consolation championship. The return of ace scorer Gregg Georgakas also aided the Hot Shots cause. Georgakas scored 12 points. The loss knocked the Regents out of the tourney. Jeff Baca, Rich Counts and Benny Sanchez had an outstanding tournament for the Regents.

GAME NINE: Castoffs 46, OLM 41 — In the tournament's most exciting game, the Castoffs defeated OLM in overtime. The score was tied at 38-38 at the end of regulation time. But the hustle of Jerry Stoller and Chris Mallos led the Castoffs into the chmpionship game. Stoller and Mallos scored 14 and 12 points respectively.

GAME TEN: Kearns AC 37, Vista Mar 34 — Brad Kearns led Kearns AC to a thrilling 37-34 victory over a hustling Vista Mar five. The victory moved Kearns AC into the title game.

CONSOLATION CHAMPIONSHIP GAME: Hot Shots 70, Red Hots 44 — The Hot Shots received tremendous scoring from their whole team as they shot past the Red Hots 70-44 to win the consolation championship. Gregg Georgakas scored 20 points for the Hot Shots. Dave Fritz who was the tournament's leading scorer had 17 points and center Jeff Snyder had 16 points to give the Hot Shots the consolation championship. Members of the consolation champions were Ed Eassa, Steve Allen, Howie Harband, Bill Allen, Dave Fritze, Gregg Georgakas and Jeff Snyder.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME: Kearns AC 61, Castoffs 47 — Brad Kearns, the most outstanding player in the tournament, tied Dave Fritz's high of 23 points in leading Kearns AC to the championship of the Tenth Annual Yuletide Tourney. Carlos Sandoval and Greg Bodmer aided Kearns by scoring 19 and 11 points respectively. The strength of the champions offset the fine play of Lance Judd and Henry Sylva of the Castoffs.

The Sleeping Giants in the NPL

By JERRY LITTRELL

A couple sleeping giants awoke on Friday and served notice that there will be as much of a battle for four playoff spots in the North Peninsula League as there has been for first place in years past.

Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools, two teams with less-than-stupendous pre-season records, opened conference action with very impressive wins yesterday as the Rams smashed Half Moon bay, 80-45, while Jefferson embarassed South San Francisco, 70-45. In other league action, Oceana downed Terra Nova, 64-56, while El Camino outlasted visiting Serramonte, 72-68.

Jefferson's victory was by far the most impressive one of the points at one time, the Indians simply ignored the defense South City tired and beat the Warriors at their own running game.

South City never led. And when the Warriors tried to penetrate inside they were met by a 6-6 jumping jack. The confrontation went something like this: A Warrior shoots, up goes the Jeff center who says "Hi, I'm Kenny Smith and here's a Wilsonburger!" Swat! He blocked five shots, had one goaltending call against him, popped for 24 points and dominated the rebounding game.

The Warriors have probably never been colder. They missed 28 of 35 floor shots in the first half for a 20 per cent average. All were within 10-12 feet.

Jeff guard Ray Viado, however, missed nothing as he gave Smith the support he needed with an outside-balancing effort of 21 points.

Jefferson turned the ball over 18 times to 21 for S.S.F. but some of the Warrior shots were so poorly aimed they too should have been counted under turnovers.

Jeff's defense shut off the Warriors with just one bucket in the firstt quarter and held S.S.F. scoreless in the third period for four full minutes while running the lead up from 31-17 to 47-17.

Even without high scoring forward Gary Stoller out with the flu, the Westmoor Rams were able to handle the Cougars. Junior center Leo Biederman dominated the contest by plucking off 28 rebounds and scoring 18 points.

The Rams' full-court press rattled the Cougars quickly as Westmoor moved out to a quick 14-point lead and really never had problems from then on.

Gavin Long and Jim Woods, expected to give Westmoor outside scoring, showed some promise with 23 points between them as the Rams won only their second game of the entire season.

The best game of the opening round turned out to be last night's Camino-Serramonte confrontation. Defensively strong all during the practice season, El Camino suddenly found some scoring power with Mark Spivey and Kevin Hornick getting 24 and 22 points, respectively, and the Colts never trailed.

Up by as many as 23 points twice, the Colts did choose to make it interesting, however, with a variety of forced shots and bad passes in a rag-tag second half.

Twice the visiting Regents managed to close within eight points in the third period, after Camino had taken a 13-point lead into the dressing room, but Spivey and Hornick kept pulling the Colts up by the their red shoelaces.

Todd Stevenson and Don Theuner made a personal rush at the host Colts in a frantic fourth period but the Regents could get no closer than three points as the Camino zone press shook up the Serramonte attack.

Four times in the last three minutes the Colts stole the ball away from Serramonte and all four times the steals led directly to baskets. Spivey connected for two, Hornick got another and ended the string with a lay-in with 35 seconds remaining.

Oceana's powerful front line generated the offense that pushed the Sharks (now 7-2 overall) to a quick 20-point lead last night in Pacifica as Oceana headed towards a 64-56 victory.

The Sharks never really broke the game wide-open as the Tigers, with John Racanelli doing most of the damage, kept whittling the lead away.

Most of the game the Sharks, with Terry Johnston and Tom Harper combining for 37 points, led by anywhere from 11 to 15 points throughout the game. The closest the Terra Nova quintet came was eight near the end.

Random Holiday Grid Thoughts

Some random thoughts on a few of the 298 Holiday football games:

SHRINE EAST-WEST GAME — What can you ever say about an All-Star game except that whenever Candlestick hosts one on national television, the park chokes. In 1961 it was the notorious wind storm. A decade later, it's the slippery Astro-Turf that made San Francisco look like the city that not only doesn't know how, but doesn't seem willing to learn.

Do you truly realize how difficult it is to intercept three passes in one football game, as San Diego State's great defensive back Willie Buchanon did? Think of it this way. There are many truly great receivers who have days when they catch fewer than three passes in a game when their quarterback WANTS them to catch the ball. Buchanon caught three when the quarterback DIDN'T want him to catch the ball.

ROSE BOWL — We had three immediate thoughts after that great Stanford victory: We were glad the kid who got thrown for the safety, sophomore Jimmy Ferguson, got taken off the hook. A skull like that could have plagued him professionally and personally for the rest of his life. As much as we were rooting for Stanford, when that happened we weren't mad at the kid. We simply felt very sorry for him. Gee, ma, do you suppose we're maturing?

The moment Rod Garcia's boot bellied over the uprights, we shouted to somebody, "A Chicano's done it again!" Or have you already forgotten about what Jim Plunkett did to Ohio State in the Rose Bowl the year before?

We remembered back to the reports of how coach John Ralston, in both Bowl appearances, had treated his charges like men. They stayed in a motel, visited Disneyland, didn't have a curfew until the last couple of days before the game, etc. Michigan, for example, stayed at a monestary the night before the game. We thought of the decals pasted all over the helmets of Michigan players, each one denoting a "big play." It suddenly seemed so childish to us. And we suddenly realized that a team doesn't have to be totally self-sacrificing and "rah-rah" to be a winner. It could be that they don't even have to pray.

49ERS-DALLAS — Obviously, the best team won this game, but not necessarily the best defense. The 49er stop men were tremendous, especially Dave Wilcox, the most underrated linebacker in football. (Bob Oates, a Los Angeles writer, of all people, recently actually came out in print and admitted that Wilcox and Jimmy Johnson are the best at their positions in pro football.)

Ironically, the experts kept saying that if the 49ers had a chance, their edge would be John Brodie, because of his experience and moxie in comparison with the relative rookie Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach; but Staubach out-playing Brodie was the edge that Dallas had over San Francisco.

We still think, incidentally, that the 49ers are keeping secret a probable Brodie chronic arm or shoulder problem. We don't understand how such a pro could otherwise be so inconsistent in his throwing habits. Earlier in the season he was pushing the ball. Toward the end, down the stretch, he was zinging it again, and in the Dallas game he was again floating it.

Aside from Staubach, probably the second worst thing that happened to the 49ers (or maybe third, besides their injuries in the secondary), was the injury of Calvin Hill. That forced the Dallas genius coach Tom Landry to use Walt Garrison, who turned out to easily be the most effective runner against the 49ers, who had managed to stop Hill, and virtually nullify Duane Thomas.

And what of the wait-till-next-year 49er syndrome? Off the record, they were better last year, having a better regular season record (10-3-1 as against 9-5), and losing to Dallas in the NFC championship game by seven rather than 11 points. So, if they improved, the rest of football improved more. If the geometric progression holds, the 49ers will be back in the cellar by the end of the '70s.

But really, on paper, there doesn't seem much else they can do to improve physically. A really outstanding punter would help, but certainly wouldn't make a dramatic difference. Perhaps more depth in the secondary, but that may come to mind only because they had an unusually bad injury problem in that area this year. Under ordinary circumstances their depth there may be adequate.

Their problem seems to be more one of philosophy, or perhaps just simple better execution. They make too many mistakes, and make them too often in the most crucial moments. It seems to us that this is a coaching problem, and that may be where the ultimate improvement of the 49ers lies.

About once a week, this past season, we had alternating dreams. One night, Don Shula would be coaching the 49ers the other night it would be Paul Brown. And once, just once, during one particularly wild sequence, George Allen had picked up the reins. But we quickly rolled over on our tummy and ended that one.

A largely unpublicized footnote to the 49er saga this year concerned the seven men selected for the Pro Bowl game. Four were defensive men (Wilcox, Johnson, Cedrick Hardman, Bruce Taylor), three were offensive players (Gene Washington, Ted Kwalick and Forrest Blue.) The last time the 49ers had that much representation was 1955, when five of the selectees were offensive stars (Billy Wilson, Bruno Banducci, Y. A. Tittle, John Henry Johnson, Joe Perry), while only two were from the defensive unit (Al Carapella, Jim Cason.) All of which represents a shifting in the 49er philosophy — one of the good ones.

If you read last week's column, you know of the plug we gave Pacifica's cablevision sportscaster, teen-aged Steve Calais. Said that he is, "A sportscaster who really knows nothing about those things of which he speaks . . . Just a week later, Calais has proven our point.

Eight weeks ago he publicly predicted that the Super Bowl would be staged between Dallas and Miami. We don't know of another "expert" who picked that parlay.

If you're interested in a completely unfounded rumor from an unreliable source, there's word out that the 49ers are maneuvering for a big trade with Houston. It goes this way: Elmer Collette, John Isenbarger and Steve Spurrier for Dan Pastorini and next year's number one draft choice.

Wild as it may sound, it makes sense, and we personally think it would be a very good deal for the 49ers. In Collette they would be giving up a young (27) guard who would play a lot more for a lot of other clubs, and who just two years ago was in the Pro Bowl. But Houston needs offensive linemen, and you have to give up something to get a potentially great quarterback

MPL Opener

Capuchino in Triumph

By DIRK SORENSON

Capuchino High basketball coach Jimmy Johnson must have wondered if he had somehow blundered into a post-season football game.

The way bodies were getting crunched on the San Mateo gym floor Friday, no one could blame him. There were 46 no-nos whistled before Cap emerged from the pileup with a 67-59 win in its Mid-Peninsula League opener.

The crowd was delighted; the coaches were horrified.

San Mateo jumped out to a 13-7 lead, exhibiting a tenacious man to man defense and some very solid rebounding from center Ryon Paton.

Then, with little over two minutes remaining in the quarter, the 'Cats committed three consecutive blunders; the Mustangs' Rob Silver converted on the following charities to cut the margin to 13-10.

The turning point came in the second quarter. Many of Cap's starting five were in foul trouble, so the Mustangs were forced into a zone defense.

The move was a rewarding one. The zone gave Cap the advantage it needed under the defensive boards.

Paton found the going crowded as the Tangs' Silver and Steve Turner were sometimes too much for the solitary Bearcat.

After Cap had taken advantage of numerous Bearcat turnovers Turner tied the score for the first time, on a free throw, at 21-21.

San Mateo's Steve Viehwig, perhaps angered by some officials' calls early in the game, brought the Bearcats back with some inspired play.

He commenced by hitting a long outside shot to counter a Silver bucket. He then stole two ensuing rebounds, fed once to Paton underneath and took the other in himself.

Turner hit a desperation 40 footer at the buzzer, but San Mateo took a 29-27 halftime lead into the locker room.

San Mateo's efforts on the boards in the third quarter were sad; the Bearcats could only muster two to Cap's eleven — the Mustangs operated at will on the offensive boards, and consequently took a six-point lead into the fourth quarter.

About two minutes into the final stanza San Mateo made a run for it. The Bearcats put on an effective half court press which dazzled the Mustangs into four straight turnovers.

San Mateo's Larry Giffin closed the gap then on two quick free throws.

At that point the atmosphere in the San Mateo gym, affectionately called "The Pit" by its denizens, became angry.

Cap guard Pete Santora was fouled by an anxious Wayne Eitel on a close call; the crowd's disapproval was loud and long.

Santora, amidst the frenzy, sank both chances on the one and one to give Cap all the boost it needed.

From then on it was driving Mike Galvin and twisting Silver dominating the game to the end.

There was a bright spot for the Bearcats: reserve guard Bruce Meyer came off the bench to put through 16 points . . . he could become the scoring punch the Bearcats need.

Parkway School Beats Westmoor

Parkway Junior High School of South San Francisco upped its record to 2-0 in the Mid-Peninsula Freshmen Wrestling League with a 54-17 victory over Westmoor on the Rams' mats Wednesday.

THE POST'S SPORTS

San Mateo, Crestmoor Matmen Win

The rich get richer and the poor get poorer

That's the story that was expected from MPL wrestling matches this season. Almost everything went according to plan in yesterday's league openers as title favorites San Mateo and Crestmoor won big while Hillsdale scored a mild upset over Burlingame.

San Mateo up-ended Mills 42-17. Crestmoor bombed hapless Aragon 59-8 and Hillsdale dumped the Panthers 31-27.

Other good performances were turned in by Gary Stanton, who won handily in the 122's, 15-0; Jim Grimsley, who pinned Joe Romero in the heavyweight class, and Daley Curry, who won by just showing up (and not even getting an opponent for him to exhibit his skills on). Curry is another MPL defending champ.

Crestmoor won rather ominously. The Falcons took four pins in the first seven matches, the other three wins were forfeits. A mild surprise occurred when Mike Paul of the Falcons drew with Aragon's Greg Phillips in the 145's.

Dan Carter started the season with a pin in the 95's while Bob Littlefield did the same thing in the 120's. Littlefield is a returning MPL titlist. Kevin Ruane was also impresive in his 6-0 defeat of Frank Rochex.

Roof Caves in On Crestmoor

By STEVE JOHNSON

Turnovers are usually something that turn off Mills High basketball coach Bill Smith completely.

But Friday in the Vikings 64-38 win over Crestmoor in their Mid-Peninsula League opener, Smith may have had a change of heart.

For it was the sight of those pesky turnovers that probably turned Smith on for once — Crestmoor turnovers, that is.

A scratching, scrambling, scrapping, and sometimes sneaky Vike defense forced the outmatched San Bruno quintet into 28 costly botchups — ranging from assorted ball control violations to passes thrown at players who were never there.

Crestmoor, penetrating well inside and able to do a good job staying with the towering Vikes on the boards for the first period, saw the roof cave in in the second quarter.

Mills began picking up the tempo of the game with a fast-break when possible type of attack, and soon picked up a pretty good margin as a result.

The etxreme Viking defensive pressure steadily took its toll on a somewhat confused Falcons, and the cool, confident Vikes sprinted to a 27-16 halftime lead.

Crestmoor managed to stay close during the third quarter only on some great scoring efforts by forward Jim Jarvis and a surprise by Mills — missing six straight free-throws just when it looked like the Vikes were taking off for good.

However, by this time the Falcons were in deep foul trouble, and this horribly reduced any chance of battling the Vikes even on the boards.

And it hurt. Crestmoor went into the last eight minutes down only 39-24, but Mills, rebounding strongly, and playing that pressure defense the same way, soon blew the game wide open.

Down by 15, the Falcons were forced into all sorts of gambling and chance-taking. They didn't work.

Mills hit the Falcons with a fourth period 25-12 blitz, and the Vikes cruised to their 11th straight win, improving their season record to a frighteningly good 11-1 log.

Don Weaver hit for 23 points to lead both teams, while Jarvis came up with 16 to top the Falcons.

Weaver also grabbed 17 of the 37 Mills rebounds. Crestmoor got 17 rebounds too.

And then, there's always those turnovers.

Larios' Passes Pace Skyline

By JERRY LITTRELL

Mike Larios would be the delight of any optometrist should he decide at some future date to wear glasses—he has to have at least six eyes located around his cranium.

That's the only explanation as to how the Skyline College guard is able to find the open man so consistently on fast breaks and blind-side passes.

Without a doubt Larios is the most exciting ballhandler in any of the county's jaycees, when he's on, and he was on all the way Saturday night.

That's when the Trojans ran their Camino Norte Conference record to 2-0 with an 81-58 victory over visiting Solano College.

The San Bruno quintet pits that record against DeAnza Wednesday evening on the Trojan court.

Larios has his best passing night of the season with behind-the back, over-the-head, bounce-through-the-legs and wrap-around varieties hitting his teammates perfectly.

He scored only six points but set up countless others especially on the last pass off fast breaks.

Guard Matt Krilitech hit the first four shots he took, all from 20 feet or beyond, and Skyline was up 8-2. Were it not for the visitors' inability to hit backdoor layins early in the game, it would have been much closer.

"Defensively, our forwards, Jeff Wellemeyer and Chris Hansen, did an excellent job of stopping their front line from scoring," said Trojan Coach Walt Rilliet. "We played strong defense most of the way but that front-line play was really the key."

The defense completely shut off the visitors for six of the final seven minutes in the first half when the Trojans went from a 20-16 lead to a 34-16 advantage.

The press and Larios' passing in the second half kept the lead around the 20-point mark.

Solano's only run came when down by 19. Trojan forward Pete Saco fouled Bill Grapes in the act of shooting. Tempers flared momentarily as Saco incurred the wrath of Grapes and was charged with a personal and a technical for slamming down the ball.

Off the series Solano managed to close to within 15 points but Skyline quickly built back the 20-point bulge.

Horwitz in Endspurt Hill Climb Win

Club Endspurt held its annual New Year's Day ride up San Bruno Mountain.

There were over 30 cyclists.

The winner of this annual event is crowned "King of the Mountain" for the year. Richard Barona, last year's King, was on hand, but due to ill health was unable to defend his crown.

Marc Horwitz, who holds the title of winner of the (Club Endspurt Winter Training Series), was crowned the new "King of the Mountain for 1972).

Results: Marc Horwirtz, first; Steve Lundgren, Keith Vierra, Laurie Schmidtke, Lindsey Crawford, John McDonnell, Tom Tarallo, Dan Smiley, Randy Hietter, Richard Amy.

Club Endspurt Overall Standings, Winter Training Series. Senior "D" Division: Marc Howritz, 50 points; Fritz Liedel, 17 points; Tom Tarallo, 12 points; Laurie Schmidtke, 15 points; Larry Mercereau, 15 points.

Senior "B" Division: Tony Wu, 22 points; Frank Powell, 20 points; George Singer, 17 points.

and a top draft choice. On the other hand, Collette isn't doing a lot of playing for the 49ers, and as potentially good and as versatile as is Isenbarger, he hasn't been given a chance to help them at all, and the way the 49ers are stock-piling great young bodies, he may never get the chance. Spurrier has been of virtually no value.

With Pastorini, the 49ers would have fine protection for an aging quarterback, and could kill two weaknesses with one player because Pastorini is also a great punter, which, as we mentioned above, the 49ers can use. He can also place-kick and would be a good back-up for Bruce Gossett.

By grabbing lowly Houston's first pick, the 49ers would be pretty well up on the list and could maybe snatch one of those fine defensive backs the colleges have seemingly produced in abundance this year.

MPL Wrestling Race Looks Like Re-Run

By STEVE JOHNSON

The Mid-Peninsula League wrestling race is one establishment where the status quo never changes.

Crestmoor and San Mateo have completely dominated MPL mat action the last few years, and this time it looks like the same old story once again.

The Falcons, and their three-coach triumvirate headed by Chuck Kent, boast one of the best wrestling programs in the area — and the work has paid off to the fullest: including last year's MPL championship.

Crestmoor, 3-1 in pre-season activity, has a good nucleus for a title defense. Bob Littlefield (120s), Mike Paul (138s), and Bruce Stevens (Unlimited) all were individual champs last year. Other impressive Falcons include Dan Carter (95s) and former footballer Kevin Ruane (175s).

All this talent has Kent spewing out the fire of optimism rather freely. "I think we've got the horses to take the title, but it'll be close just like every other year. San Mateo is always outstanding and they'll be a lot tougher than last year (a close second). It seems like all their strengths come at our weaknesses and vice versa. Secondary strength will be the biggest factor in winning the title."

Kent is right about San Mateo. The Bearcats have taken 10 titles the past 15 years, and have compiled an incredible 141-26-4 league record during the same stretch. Since 1956, the 'Cats have finished as low as third only once — in 1963. They don't appear to be slowing up any.

Coach Charlie Douglas has enough bruisers back this year to rate an excellent shot at number 11, four of whom are among the best grapplers around.

There's junior Mike Harney (103s), an all-leaguer last year, and complete with abundant experience and skill for a repeat performance.

Gary Stanton (120s) is another 'Cat standout. "This guy never gives up," says Douglas. "He's got a heart that weighs 120 pounds; a real hard worker."

Charles Simon (127s) is another returning all-leaguer, who uses his exceptional strength to the utmost — evidenced by three pins in pre-season action.

Dale Curry (191s), the MPL champ in his division last year, had been inactive for a while with a head concussion, but is coming on strong now. "He's got everything necessary to be Nor-Cal champ," says Douglas, "his reactions and strength are just amazing."

Although Crestmoor and San Mateo appear to be logical title favorites, that's still no reason to count out anybody else, especially Capuchino.

The Mustangs have looked good during their 3-1 practice season, and coach Brian Juri is looking for a similar job in league competition. "We've got some real good heavyweights, and a lot of experience from last year. From 145 pounds up, we're as good as anybody."

Cap has an all-league returnee in Paul Accinelli (175s), a similar pick in football as well. Other crunchers look like John Copello (Unlimited), Ken Becker (165s), Harold Streater (103s) and Rich Wynne (95s).

Aragon, with problems in depth and experience, suffered through a winless pre-season, and prospects don't look much better once league starts.

First year coach Richard Breaux has just one senior on the entire squad in Greg Phillips (140s or 147s), but he's a good one. As a soph, he placed third in the MPL finals.

Another Don bright spot could be junior Mark Chorpening (165s), who has all the physical attributes, but needs a little more battle experience.

Jack King's Burlingame contingent has more than enough to be rated a solid contender. Co-captains Dan Irons (122s) and Bob Mennis (167s) head up the list after both being runners-up in their divisions last year, and have excellent help in senior Joe Bozello (114s), and juniors Dan Eisan (Unlimited) and Greg Erickson (193s).

Mills, under coach Jim Bogdan, is also capable of causing a lot of problems with top men Gary Bei (133s), Mike Cullen (120s), Jeff Sea, Gary Armstrong and Mike Kessler.

Hillsdale, seemingly unable to funnel any of its athletic magic into the wrestling season, will have a few good individuals in various divisions, but it doesn't appear Robert Beekman's matmen have enough depth for a title challenge.

Biggest-Ever Boat Show Starts Cow Palace Run

By GARRY NIVER

At approximately 11:25 a.m. on Friday, while the majority of the populace was concerned with the eliminaton of hunger pangs, the mammoth Cow Palace on Geneva Avenue in Daly City was one chaotic mess.

Electric and diesel machines tugged and pulled huge nautical craft through the gaping exits of the Cow Palace as brightly painted camper trucks attempted to maneuver around them in search of a parking place for the next ten days.

It was obvious that the 30th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show was ready for the cow barn, but was the cow barn ready for it?

Some 30 minutes later, after much juggling, grunting and a few tears, San Mateo County's largest attendance exposition had just about fallen into place.

Though some of the nooks and crannies of the Cow Palace had to be altered somewhat to fit the sports extravaganzas, impressario Tom Rooney signaled that the show was just about ready.

With Mrs. Alfred Matter, wife of Admiral Matter, center stage in front of the Carri-Craft queen ship, the traditional champagne was shattered over the bow and the show was officially underway on a ten-day run.

And, unlike past years, the champagne bottle broke on the first swing, completely soaking boat show board chairman Dick Jose with the bubbly. But with an expected attendance of 400,000 over the next ten days, he can well afford a new outfit.

Besides giving the country boy a good excuse to come to the big city, the boat show is a veritable potpourri of nautical, fishing and camping items. This year's show has used every available inch of the 400,000 square feet of floor space, and has overflowed out into the pavilions and hallways.

"We can't get any bigger, only get better," sighed Rooney.

The North Hall features the smaller pleasure craft, with such brand names as Reinell, Delta, Starcraft, Valco and Glastron displaying their wares.

One uncanny little device for the sailor who has everything is the Dampp-Chaser Thermo-electric dehumidifier, which supposedly keeps those crucial spots dry in a boat. It sells for $9.95.

Also for the well-heeled yachtsman is a 42-piece set of non-skid, personalized dinnerware. Just the thing for those stormy nights on the high seas.

The South Hall is the fishermen's delight as all of the latest poles, flies, hooks, crayfish traps, tackle boxes and whatever else it takes to land a smelly smelt is displayed.

Showcased in the area between the Cow Palace and the pavilions are airplanes, including a McCullough J-2 Gyroplane for the impatient commuter. It sells for a modest $19,500 and can do 110 miles per hour.

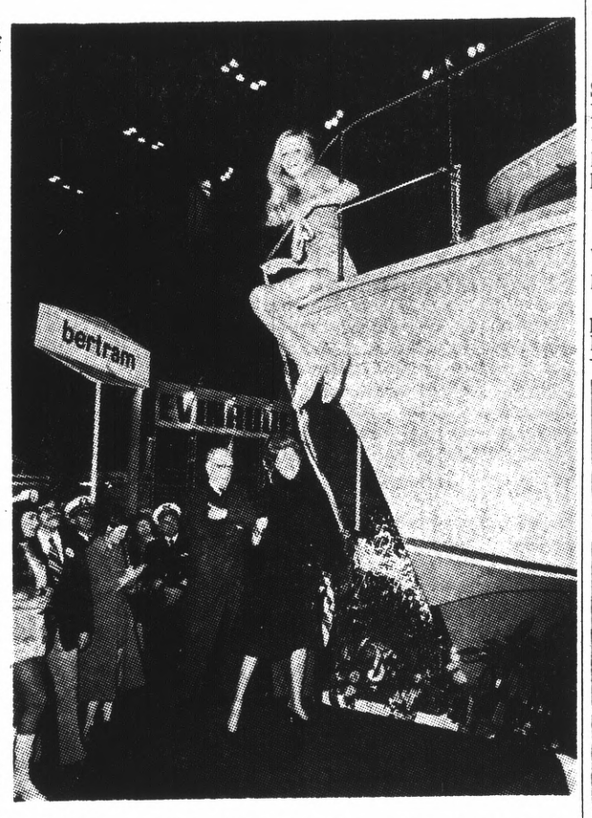
The Canadian government highlights the Vacationland Pavilions as all of the various provinces have set up booths for impending tourists. Manning the British Columbia booth is Gordon Beddoes, a former bush pilot in the Canadian wilds who once strangled an attacking timberwolf with his bare hands.

"Tourism is Canada's third leading industry, behind mining and timber, and we expect it to surpass the latter within a few years," remarked the intrepid Beddoes.

This year's Vacationland is far more comprehensive than in past years. Besides the faroff Northwest Territories, it also includes booths from Baja California and a unique booth advertising river tours up the Colorado River in the Grand Canyon.

For a measily $235, you can spend seven days on the Colorado River under the guidance of White Water River Expeditions of Turlock, California. They also have tours on the Salmon, Tuolumne and Stanislaus Rivers.

And if you are the ranchhand type, there is always the Chief Joseph Guest Ranch of Darby, Montana, which has brought down part of its ranch to display on the Cow Palace grounds.



SPLASH — Mrs. Alfred Matter, wife of Admiral Matter, christens the bow of the Carri-Craft queen ship at the Cow Palace on Friday as the 30th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show opened a ten-day run at the Daly City Cow Palace. Looking on are Boat Show President Tom Short and show queen Margo Law.

Meet Bill Rankin, Bay Meadows Food Expert

How would you like to have the responsibility of feeding 16,000 persons a day? The idea might turn you off, but it's the very idea that Bill Rankin thrives on. He's been feeding literally thousands of people per day, 40 weeks out of the year, for the past 29 years.

That's a lot of pizza and beer, brother. Not to mention a few million hamburgers and hot dogs. And coffee . . . well, you'd need a computer to figure how many cups this man has sold.

Bill Rankin faces this monumental task every day of his life because, as he himself puts it, "It gets into your blood after a while." For Rankin is general manager of food and beverage for Bay Meadows, the San Mateo racetrack, and as we know the sport of racing is something that gets into the blood of a lot of people — from jockeys and horse owners right down to the blue-collar worker who lays a $2 bet in the fifth. But Rankin's love is not the love of betting but the love of the track — its atmosphere, its colorful characters, its fast tempo. And its hungry people.

In a given year, this is what Bill serves the thousands who swarm into Bay Meadows. 80,000 slices of pizza; 400,000 hot dogs; 360,000 hamburgers; 450,000 soft drinks; 700,000 cups of coffee; 750,000 bottles of beer. In a given day, he serves an average of 3500 highballs poured over 25,000 pounds of ice. Bay Meadows Catering, of which Bill is also executive vice president, is in charge of 12 concession stands in the grandstand area; nine bars where liquor and beer is served; the cafeteria in the grandstands; a hof brau dining room in the Club House; the Coach Room, which is located in the Turf Club; and the Turf Terrace, where buffet service is available on an all-you-can-eat basis, $4 per person. Rankin employs more than 200 persons who provide food and beverage services, ranging from his chefs John Pincini and Ernest Rillman down to the helper who spreads mustard on the hot dogs.

It is a monumental task to feed the Bay Meadows crowd, and Robert S. Gunderson, vice president and general manager of Bay Meadows, and William J. Ward, assistant general manager of Bay Meadows and president of the California Horse Racing Association, have nothing but praise for Rankin.

Rankin is a native of North Dakota who first went to Chicago in 1933 to produce lavish stage revues. At that time he had his sights set on a career in show business, but a trip to Pasadena to visit his mother led to a singular series of circumtances. His mother's uncle had all the concessions in the City of Pasadena (including the Rose Bowl) and Bill was asked to help out at Santa Anita at a hot dog stand. From this simplest beginning he literally worked his way up the ladder until, in 1942, he became general manager at Santa Anita. It is his experience in every phase of race track catering, we might add, that led to his expertise and deep-rooted understanding of the needs of the various kinds of people who frequent race tracks — from the lower classes to millionaires.

During World War II, the government permitted only Bay Meadows to operate, and Bill Rankin was the natural choice of Harry Curland Catering, which at that time had the contract for all Northern California race tracks. After the war, Bill found himself in charge of catering for not only Bay Meadows but Golden Gate Fields and Tanforan as well, and he continued in that job until 1955.

Rankin retired briefly from the catering field to work for Adrian "Red" Stickney as general manager in charge of the Stickney restaurant chain. For the next two years he missed the racetrack environment severely, and was quite delighted when two tracks in Chicago (Arlington and Washington) contracted him to remodel their concessions, since they had heard of Rankin's reputation in the field. This took the next two years of his time, and now he missed the Bay Area and his home life in Belmont. Finally, in 1963, he returned to Bay Meadows. In 1969, Bay Meadows turned over the entire operation to Rankin, who immediately formed Bay Meadows Catering. Rankin is now catering to the California Horse Racing Harness meet. Racing Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, 1 p.m.; Friday night racing (First Race 7:45 p.m.) Starting February 23 thru March 4 night racing (First Race 7:45 p.m.) will be featured Tuesday thru Saturday with restaurant service from 6 p.m. — Heated Stands.

Fireside Dining At Scotty Campbell's

A fireplace lends hospitable warmth in the main dining room at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City, an award-winning restaurant featuring steaks "the way you like 'em," Broiled Australian Lobster Tail, melting with butter, and Prime Ribs of Beef like you wouldn't believe. All entrees are accompanied by a huge baked potato and plenty of fresh, creamery butter. Mary Lou Francis smiles her friendly greeting from the reservation desk and seats you in the dining areas which are embellished with clannish oddments of kith and kin, paintings and antique objects . . . Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant offers an impressive selection of seafood dishes, as well as savory Italian specialties. It also lists steaks, chicken, spaghetti and meat balls, and sandwiches. If you are a salad fancier, try one of the chef's specials. Seafoods are helpfully grouped under general and classified headings. Portions are generous and you may order a la carte. Children are served at a modest price . . . Lew Lehr's Steak House, in San Francisco's exclusive Marina district, is available for private parties of 80 to 125 persons on Sundays and Mondays. The beautifully appointed dining room and lounge are an ideal setting for "a party to remember."

"Dirty Harry" Visits Exposition Fish Grotto

Baby Salmon was the menu choice when Clint Eastwood, in town to premiere his latest picture, "Dirty Harry," joined Producer Robert Daly and Director Don Siegel for a luncheon conflab at the Exposition Fish Grotto, at Fisherman's Wharf. The three dignitaries were much pleased with Chef Art Daivs' recipe . . . Small, medium or large — order any size of pizza that suits your appetite at Romano's Italian restaurant, located in the heart of Rockaway Beach action in Pacifica. Enrico Romano, who is known to his good friends (and pizza lovers) as "The Ambassador of Anchovies," spends numerous hours each day in the kitchen, preparing ingredients to place atop his mouth-watering morsels . . . Don Althoff (Ernie's Liquors president) of Palo Alto recently hosted a small dinner party at the Prime Rib Inn . . . Luxury yachts are the main topic of conversation these evenings at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco, where exhibitors at the big San Francisco Sports and Boat Show are hosting nightly dinner parties in the elegant Wellington Room.

Main Attraction Texas-Style Barbecue

Texas-style barbecue specialities are the main attraction at the new Barbecue Inne, where Owner Jon Coleman manages to serve good food and display and sell many excellent paintings. The dining area is in a unique gallery setting — dine while you ponder over the subject matter. Jon's "early week" specials are also a favorite with budget conscious patrons . . . When 49ers John Brodie and Dave Wilcox dropped by Fabbro's, this week, their conversation wasn't of football. Instead, the multi-talented Brodie talked about the strategy he will be using in the upcoming Crosby Golf Tournament . . . The Golden Steer's Roy Devincenzi and six of his buddies are departing for Mexico the fifteenth of this month. It will be a two-week stay for Roy and his friends, and, of course, these gentlemen only go "first class." They'll fly down via a private plane, and have already arranged to have two boats, two cars and two houses at their disposal . . . The London Room at the Hillsdale Inn, San Mateo, is chiefly known for excellent steaks and chops. It is also a welcome midday luncheon haven for local businessmen. Choice items are listed on the menu, including a daily special. Visit the salad bar as often as you wish.

Frank, Fannie Torres On Vacation—Reopen Feb. 11

Frank and Fannie Torres are institutions on the Coastside. This indefatigable couple, who own and operate Torres Beach restaurant in Montara, just south of Devil's Slide on Coast Highway One, have been serving the public for countless years, and continue to do so year after year with courteous service and some excellent South American specialties of the house. The Torres are now on vacation, with the reopening date scheduled for Friday, February 11 . . . The Putter's Second Anniversary celebration will take place January 19 and 20, from 3 p.m. to 2 a.m. each day. A free buffet will be offered from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., plus dancing and live music. This bustling Burlingame bistro is currently showcasing a new group called Barbary Coast, Tuesdays through Saturdays . . . One of the top musical attractions in the Bay Area, Big Brother and The Holding Company, will appear one-night-only, Wednesday, January 12, at the Band Stand in Redwood City. This single concert is in keeping with the club owner's present policy of providing the best entertainment available in the Bay Area. Now appearing at The Band Stand every Friday and Saturday night is The Sound Barrier.

Nick's Papagayo Room Now Open

Start out the new year right by treating yourself to a wonderful Mexican meal. And you'll find the Papagayo Room at Rockaway Beach an intriguing place in which to enjoy authentic "south of the border" dishes. Present the coupon in the advertisement on Bright Lights and be the recipient of a "2 for the price of 1" dinner special . . . For a touch of the nautical, The Moonraker, another Nick Gust enterprise fronting the shore of the Pacific at Rockaway Beach, serves exquisite dishes of the sea and Continental fare to satisfy the most particular appetites . . . Also situated along the shoreline and just across the street is Nick's famous restaurant and lounge, where happy gatherings of the local set and out-of-town regulars dine, sip, dance and make merry. Breakfast, lunch and dinners served seven days a week. If you live on the Peninsula or in the San Francisco areas, you're only 30 minutes away from a dining experience you will long remember for its moments of relaxed pleasure . . . Preparing and designing cakes for special occasions is an outstanding feature at Stickney's restaurants. One of the most modern bakeries in the West is a Redwood City Stickney's boast.

New Finocchio's Show Big Hit

A new production number built around the theme of the musical "Anything Goes" is earning applause and rave notices at Finocchio's nightclub, the home of the world's greatest female impersonators. This lively song and dance segment of a wonderful show was created by show director Joel Nobel, and produced by Mr. and Mr . Joe Finocchio. Spectators from among the local residents, and tourists from all parts of the world continue to flock here . . . Lou Fox has a chance to wear many hats at the very British Lord Fletcher Inn, Atherton. Miss Fox is the restaurant's regular bookkeeper and office manager, and doubles as the Inn's friendly hostess at lunch time . . . Lucien Sabella, the A. Sabella's restaurant Midas, says '72 looks like a record breaker in banquets for the Fisherman's Wharf dining spot. Reservations for large gatherings are already coming in for the summertime rush. Restaurant, bar and banquet service daily, both luncheon and dinner . . . Dinner tip: Crabe en Chemise, as prepared by Chef Michel Janicka at his Le Parisien French restaurant in downtown Burlingame. This is a fabulous dish of crab, cream, cheese and white wine sauce. It's a complete dinner and includes soup, salad, dessert (such as Mousse au Chocolat or Creme Caramel) and coffee. Prices are most reasonable, too.

Beef Exotica Served With Rice

Beef Exotica served with rice combines tantalizing aroma and bright color reminiscent of the Near East.

Its basic beef mixture claims versatility — half the portion can be used to make exotic meatballs, the other half to make different meat loaf. Either can be partially prepared ahead and then frozen to await that occasion for dining in Persian style. This dish reflects the Persian preference for the sweet and sour and much texture.

To the meatball creation, raisins, brown sugar, pineapple, nuts, vinegar and soy sauce are added, and to the meat loaf mixture, stuffed olives and bleu cheese.

Persian Beef Exotica also features canned tomato sauce with mushrooms in the basic mixture as well as in its finished dishes. This sauce is a blend of tomatoes, diced mushrooms, salt, onions, peppers and spices.

PERSIAN BEEF EXOTICA

3 pounds lean ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
1 (8-ounce) can Hunt's Tomato Sauce with Mushrooms
½ cup water
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup finely chopped onion

Place beef in large bowl, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top with bread crumbs. Pour tomato sauce with mushrooms and water over crubs. Add eggs and onion. Mix lightly but thoroughly. Divide into 2 equal portions. Use as follows:

Meatballs

To one portion of meat mixture, blend in ¼ cup seedless raisins, ¼ cup chopped nuts and ½ teaspon allspice. Form into 1½-inch balls (about 24); dust lightly with flour. Arrange on shallow baking sheet, brown at 375 degrees 15 minutes. Meanwhile in 10-inch skillet, combine 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce with 1 (8½-ounce) can undrained crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, 1 tablespoon vinegar and 1 tablespoon brown sugar. Add meatballs to skillet, cover, simmer 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Meat Loaf

To other portion of meat mixture, blend in ¼ cup chopped stuffed olives and 2 tablespoons crumbled bleu cheese. Form into loaf. Bake in shallow pan at 350 degrees 1 hours. Drain excess fat. Pour 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce over and around loaf. Continue baking 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: Wrap and freeze meatballs after browning step, if desired. Reheat in sauce allowing extra simmering time. Wrap and freeze meat loaf before baking. Allow extra baking time if not completely thawed when ready to bake

Use Fresh Fruit In Molded Salads

Appropriate for holiday entertaining, are these molded fruit salads. Gingered pear salad mold teams fresh pears with toasted almonds, candied ginger and yogurt. Apples and apple cider join with sour cream and walnuts in molded cider salad.

Both fresh pears and apples, along with applesauce and apple juice, are being spotlighted by the United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service as the Plentiful-Foods-to-Feature.

GINGERBREAD PEAR SALAD MOLD

1 3-oz. package lime gelatin
½ cup boiling water
1 7-oz. bottle ginger ale
½ cup plain yogurt
3 fresh Bartlett pears
3 tablespoons toasted, slivered almonds
3 tablespoons slivered candied ginger
Lettuce

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; cool slightly. Mix in ginger ale and yogurt; chill until gelatin mounds on spoon. Pare, halve, core and dice pears. Mix into gelatin along with almonds and candied ginger. Spoon into 6 or 8 individual molds or 3 or 4-cup mold. Chill several hours until firm. Unmold onto lettuce Garnish with a dressing made of equal parts of mayonnaise and yogurt if deserved. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MOLDED CIDER SALAD

4 cups apple cider
2 3-oz. packages pineapple-grapefruit flavored gelatin
1 teaspoon salt
2 tart apples
¾ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup sour cream

Bring 2 cups of cider to boiling; add gelatin and salt; stir to dissolve gelatin. Add remaining cider. Pour 1 cup of gelatin mixture into a 5 cup mold; chill both portions of gelatin until partially set. Cut half of one apple in thin wedges; arrange wedges in bottom of mold; chill till firm. Meanwhile dice remaining apples; fold apple, nuts and sour cream into remaining gelatin. Spoon over gelatin in mold. Chill till firm. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Marinate Steak

Marinate California beef top round cut 1 to 1½ inches thick in one-half cup beer and one-quarter cup oil with a bay leaf overnight, turning once. Sprinkle lightly with garlic salt and pepper then barbecue. Serve with baked potatoes and tossed green salad.

BREAKFAST TREAT

Honey broiled peaches will add a festive note to any dress-up breakfast or brunch, particularly if bacon, ham or sausages are on the menu. Brush well-drained canned cling peach halves with honey and broil until lightly tinged with brown and heated through.

Different Ways With Stuffing

Here are some variations with a 1-pound bag of herb seasoned stuffing, prepared according to package directions. Each recipe is enough for a 12- to 16-pound turkey.

PARSLEY — 1 cup chopped parsley, ¾ cup chopped onion and 1 cup chopped celery sauteed in ½ pound butter or margarine called for in package directions.

ORIENTAL — ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ cup chopped celery, 1 cup sliced mushrooms and ½ cup sliced water chestnuts sauteed in the ½ pound butter or margarine called for in package directions.

NUT — 1 cup chopped celery, ½ cup onion and 1 cup nuts sauteed in ½ pound butter or margarine called for in package directions. Brazil nuts, chestnuts, filberts, pecans or walnuts may be used.

GIBLET — Simmer turkey giblets with seasonings 2 to 3 hours. Remove liver after 10 to 20 minutes. Drain, reserving broth; chop coarsely. Saute ¾ cup chopped onion and 1 cup chopped celery in ½ pound butter or margarine called for in package directions. Use reserved broth in place of water in recipe.

A Lunch Box Blues Brightened

To brighten lunch box blues, perk up a coffee break or top off a tasty meal, have Carmamel Brownies on hand. You'll also find them handy when you sneaking a snack.

Caramel Brownies

1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2-third cup lard
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Melt lard and add brown sugar, eggs, vanilla, nuts and sifted dry ingredients ad mix thoroughly. Spread in a greased and floured jelly roll pan (15½ x 10½ inches). Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Cool and cut. Yield: 6 dozen 1½-inch square brownies.

Sausageburger

Have you tried a sausageburger lately? Simply cook sausage patties (a bit larger around than usual) and place on the bottoms of buns. Add a few onion rings, raw or grilled, and a tomato slice and lettuce, or sauerkraut, if desired, before capping with bun tops.

State Law Threatens Junior College Finances

by JOHN CURLEY

Lowering of the age for voting and other adult rights and privileges in California in the last legislative session has created a monster, in their view, that the state's junior college districts have begun to fight.

The California Junior College Association board of directors, winding up a three-day session Saturday at the Hyatt House in Burlingame, voted to try for new legislation that would "correct inequities" of the new law.

The bill, AB 2889 by Assemblyman Paul Priolo (R-Pacific Palisades), gave "majority" or adult status to all persons 18 years and over in California and was a followup to the bill lowering the voting age to 18.

This could result in an estimated loss of $12,300,000 in state financial support during the next year, a blow the JC districts feel they couldn't absorb without passing it on to the local property taxpayers.

The loss to the San Mateo Junior College District alone would be $425,000 over a year, the district had said last week.

The state now pays $662 per minor student per year at the junior colleges but only $539 for adults, a difference of $123 per student. It's that difference the JC's would lose if all those students 18 and over suddenly start bringing in only the adult support.

Ninety per cent of the enrollment in the 90 junior college districts in the state are made up of the 18 to 20 age group, which now has become what were called "emancipated minors" Saturday by the educators.

Leland W. Myers, CJCA associate executive director, told the group of 50 Saturday that several bills already have been written by the CJCA itself and sponsors in the legislature are being sought.

One bill should be introduced in a week, Myers said, primarily to "test reaction." This bill, carried by State Senator Fred W. Marler Jr. (R-Redding), would impose a one-year residency requirement in the district on a student before he would be allowed to attend a junior college tuition-free. "But there are some constitutional problems with this approach," Myers noted.

Another major impact on the junior colleges could be the annulling of meaningful interdistrict agreements, whereby a student from one may transfer to another but only for good reason. The receiving district got a $300 "seat tax" for taking on the outside student.

Since 18-year-olds now can set up housekeeping wherever they wish, these agreements become meaningless, Myers said, and transfers from other districts would bring no revenue with them from their home districts.

Another $2 million could be lost from out-of-state student tuition, since any 18-year-old now can establish residence and attend the local school tuition-free.

The one-year residency requirement proposed in the new bill would be similar to that imposed by the state university and college systems, which still collect out-of-state student tuitions for a year from new arrivals.

Governor Reagan's State of the State message Thursday also has caused a worry for the JC chiefs. Reagan said he would seek to have all state aid funds to JC's go through the state Scholarship and Loan Commission.

This would continue to provide money grants to underprivileged and minority program students but could wipe out the CJCA's Educational Opportunity Programs and Services, which provide counseling and services apart from money that these students can't always get for themselves.

One resolution passed Saturday was to seek legislation to prevent this from happening. The governor could re-channel the funds in the next fiscal budget if he desired, Myers said.

Skyline Admission Date Is Expended

The final date to apply for admission to Skyline College for the Spring term has been extended to Jan. 28 according to Rex Butler, associate dean of admissions and records.

"We want to be sure that all residents and mid-year high school graduates in San Mateo County are given the opportunity to register for the days classes," he said.

The evening college registration is being done through the mails. However, extension of the day classes registration means that all application forms must be completed, all high school or previous college transcripts must be at the college, and all registration procedures must be completed by the Jan. 28 deadline.

Skyline will give a placement test, Saturday at 8 a.m. in Building No. 1, room 131, 3300 College Drive, San Bruno.

All prospective daytime college students who plan to enroll for the spring term must take these tests, as well as complete the application for admission form and send in their high school transcripts.

A lifetime career is being made available for students interested in a career in cosmetology. The Skyline cosmetology department will be holding interviews starting February 7.

Blaze Strikes D.C. Home

A house fire in Daly City Wednesday was attributed to a 6-year-old youth playing with matches near a Christmas tree.

Officials said a home at 141 Larkspur sustained an estimated $10,000 damage to the building and $5,000 to contents in a 1:44 p.m. blaze.

New Officer

Pacifica Composite Sq. 102, Civil Air Patrol, now has a new commander. Second Lieutenant Thomas E. Hawkes of Pacifica, assumed command January 1.

Lt. Colonel Edgar W. Parmenter, of San Mateo, the squadrons present commander, has been ordered back to headquarters, Group 20, where he will assume the task of group communications director.

Book Store Burglarized

More than $3100 worth of illustrated sex magazines, 8 mm films, sex manuals, records and a projector were taken from the Play Pen Book store at 2601 El Camino Real in the unincorporated part of Redwood City sometime Friday, the owner, John J. Nunnes, 42, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday.

Nunnes valued the magazines at $2000 alone, and estimated his total loss at $3120.

Oceana Meets Jefferson in NPL Titanic

The North Peninsula League heads into only its second week this afternoon and already there's one of those proverbial titanics shaping up.

Oceana, billed as having its strongest basketball team since the NPL's birth 10 years ago, travels to Jefferson for a 3:15 matchup with the tall and talented Indians.

Both teams are 1-0 in NPL play, and both figure to provide much of the say on who's going to reign as 1972 champ.

In other NPL afternoon activities, El Camino goes to Terra Nova, Westmoor travels to Serramonte and in a 6:30 contest South San Francisco hosts Half Moon Bay.

In 3:15 Mid-Peninsula League action Hillsdale journeys down the Alameda to Aragon, Mills travels to Burlingame and Crestmoor hosts Capuchino.

The Dons, possessors of a glittering 3-3 pre-season record, and 6-7 Tom Flavine will be playing their MPL opener, and couldn't run into a more challenging start.

Hillsdale comes off an impressive win over Burlingame last week, and with prolific scorers like Rod Williams and Scott McWhirter, must be considered a potential title favorite once again.

Mills (11-1) will take a big height advantage into its Burlingame battle, but Bill Smith's rampaging cagers will be sure to have all they can handle from the scrappy conservative Panthers.

Crestmoor had a rough time in its opener against Mills, but should be ready to come back with a strong showing against the Mustangs. Capuchino looked impressive in its league opener at San Mateo and doesn't figure to be slowing up for the rival Falcons.

Serra, after suffering through a 63-35 disaster against Sacred Heart in its West Catholic Athletic opener last week, heads into trouble again in an 8 p.m. game with another powerhouse, as the Pads host St. Francis (10-3).

33rd Defeat Looms Likely For Bulldogs

Playing a state ranked team won't be a new experience tonight for College of San Mateo's winless basketball team. Seven teams on CSM's 1971-72 schedule were ranked among the state's top 20 last week and six are still there in this week's poll, released today.

Laney, which hosts San Mateo in an 8 p.m. Golden Gate Conference tussle, has a 14-6 record and ranks 12th in the state, in between two other previous CSM foes — No. 11 Contra Costa and No. 13 Menlo.

CSM, which has lost 32 in a row since beating Canada on December 26, 1970, finds the best prospect of ending the skid at defensively strong Foothill (5-10) Friday night or against visiting Monterey Peninsula (4-11) in a non-league match next Monday.

Tonight the Bulldogs expect to find a talented Laney team, led by veterans Brady Allen and Tyree Foster, just a bit too physical.

1. Long Beach CC (16-1); 2. Fullerton JC (16-2); 3. Chabot (15-1); 4. College of Marin (16-1); 5. Rio Hondo (14-3); 6. Santa Monica (14-3); 7. Santa Barbara CC (12-3); 8. Merritt (12-4); 9. La Harbor (10-3); 10. Los Angeles CC (10-4).
11. Contra Costa (11-5); 12. Laney (14-6); 13. Menlo (12-2); 14. American River (11-5); 15. LA Trade-Tech (12-2); 16. East Los Angeles (14-5); 17. Allan Hancock (11-5); 18. Mt. San Antonio (11-6); 19. LA Pierce (9-6); 20. El Camino (10-5).

Tom Powell
'Twas Rare Clear Thru

By late 1971, I had almost given up roast beef as an edible commodity.

Through the years I had attempted half a dozen traditional recipes — all of which resulted in the same thing. The outer inch or two was very well done (and tough) while the inner core was as rare as I like it (or sometimes raw).

The ideal, of course, would be to have a nice crusty outside and the degree of doneness you like all the way through. It seemed unachievable.

Then shortly before Christmas, I was leafing through a western magazine and I happened across an advertisement for California beef. It offered a new technique.

I tried it.

It worked.

You will need a five pound rolled beef cross rib roast and salt and pepper. (Seasoning salt can be used instead of the salt and pepper.) Follow these directions carefully.

CROSS RIB ROAST

Sprinkle beef with salt and pepper. Insert meat thermometer into center of roast. Let beef stand at room temperature 20 to 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Place roast on rack in shallow open pan. Roast in oven one hour. TURN OFF HEAT. DO NOT OPEN OVEN DOOR FOR ONE HOUR.

During the resting period the beef continues to cook slowly and evenly distributes heat throughtout the beef. Turn oven regu lator to 300 degrees. Allow roast to reheat 30 to 40 minutes until beef has reached desired internal temperature. Beef will be pink and juicy all the way through when thermometer registers 130 degrees. Should you desire beef cooked very rare, remove from oven a few minutes sooner. If you prefer well done beef, continue cooking until it's just the way you like it.

Note: When you purchase your roast, look for bits of fat marbling through the meat — it's an indicator of tenderness.

As another course you might like to try a cold fruit salad.

VINTAGE FRUIT SALAD

2 envelopes (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatin
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup honey
1 cup boiling water
1½ cups rose win
Red food coloring, if desired
1½ cups unpeeled diced red apple
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1 cup seedless grapes, halved
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

In large bowl, combine gelatin, salt and cold water. Allow gelatin to soften. Blend together honey and boiling water. Stir into softened gelatin. Add wine. If food coloring is used, add drop at a time. Chill until thick and syrupy. Prepare fruits and celery. Lightly toss together with lemon juice and peel. Fold into thickened, syrupy gelatin. Lightly oil 5½ cup ring mold. Turn salad into mold. Refrigerate several hours or until firm. To serve: Carefully run small spatula around edge of mold. Invert on serving dish. Surround with salad greens. Makes six to eight servings.

Ex-Bruno Councilman May Run for Clerk

Former Councilman Dick Griffith today became the first candidate to toss his hat toward the San Bruno municipal election ring, but indicated in his announcement that "he is as yet undecided whether to seek the office of city clerk or councilman."

He said he was making the announcement early in order to help publicize "the earlier filing deadlines this year, feeling our own city clerk has been remiss in this." He noted that the first date for filing candidacies is Thursday and that the deadline is noon, February 3. The deadline for voter registration to participate in the election is February 17, he pointed out.

"It is lapses like this in dissemination of voter and registration information as well as our city clerk's refusal to accept a certain initiative petition which inclines me to run for city clerk this year."

Griffith said his final decision on which office to run for would rest on "where he could do the most good for the people of San Bruno in such things as giving them a chance to express their will on the Freeway 380 extension issue and in dispelling the general aura of secrecy which still enshrouds City Hall.

"It was entirely within the city clerk's prerogatives to have placed the 380 matter on the ballot this spring since he had a valid petition presented to him."
